

Detailed Table of Contents

	margin	page
Table of Literature Cited in Abbreviated Form		xxvi
Table of Chronicles on Judgments Cited Repeatedly		xlviii
Table of Translations of Codes and Tort Law
Statutes into the English and German Languages		1
used without Special Indication of Sources
Table of Codes and Statutes		lxvi
Table of Treaties and Enactments of the European Union		xcv
Table of UK and Irish Cases		xcix
Abbreviations		cxvii
Part 1: Foundations	1-9	1
I. The term 'law of delict'	1-4	2
II. Liability for personal misconduct	5-6	6
III. Liability without personal misconduct	7-9	8
Part 2: Continental Europe's Codified Law of Delict	10-236	13
I. Subjects and methods of regulation within the law of liability for personal misconduct	11-96	14
1. Basic provisions governing liability for fault	11-25	20
a. General	11-12	20
b. From the French general clause to the restrictive approach of the BGB	13-18	21
c. The basic provisions of the more recent codified laws	19-25	27
2. Incorporating external provisions into delictual liability: violation of a statute, infringement of bonos mores , and their purpose within the liability system of codified law	26-41	39
a. Determining causes of action from blanket provisions	27-30	40
b. Fault and breach of statutory duty	31-32	45
c. Extension of the protected interests	33-35	47
d. The intentional infliction of

Detailed Table of Contents

	damage contra bonos mores , and the abuse of legal rights	36-41	50
3.	Further areas of liability for personal misconduct in European codes	42-60	58
	a. General overview	42-43	58
	b. Endangering the economic reputation of a person or firm, and other delicts concerning the protection of a business	44-49	60
	c. Liability of independent tortfeasors, accessories and conspirators, and group members	50-60	69
	(1) Independent tortfeasors	51-53	70
	(2) Problems of causation by accessories and participants	54-60	74
	d. Liability of persons lacking capacity	61-96	83
	(1) Children and juveniles	62-88	84
	(a) Exemption from liability during early childhood: children as persons without capacity to commit a delict	63-65	84
	(b) Counter-developments in France: faute objective	66-68	90
	(c) Juveniles: ability to reason and reduced standard of care	69-74	95
	(d) Liability in equity as an exception	75-84	101
	(e) The personal liability of children and juveniles: a secondary form of liability?	85-88	109
	(2) The handicapped	89-92	112
	(3) Unconsciousness and the influence of drugs	93-96	116
II.	Vicarious liability and liability for damage caused by things: General questions	97-129	118
	1. The law of quasi-delict: scope and objectives	97-100	119
	2. The problem of decodificazione	101-102	121
	3. Special provisions and judge-made and codified general clauses	103-129	124
	a. The general duty of care (Verkehrspflichten) in German law	104-105	124

Detailed Table of Contents

b. Gardien liability in French, Belgian, and Luxembourgish law	106–116	127
(1) The development of liability for damage caused by things under Art. 1384 I 2nd alt. Code civil	107–114	127
(2) Liability under Art. 1384 I 1st alt. Cc for damage caused by persons	115	134
(3) The relationship between general gardien liability and codified causes of action	116	136
c. The general clauses of Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, and Dutch law	117–129	137
(1) Guardian liability outside France, Belgium, and Luxembourg	118–125	138
(2) Liability for things and for dangerous activities	126–129	146
III. The law of liability for third parties under special provisions of the codifications	130–205	150
1. Liability for children	131–159	155
a. Liability of parents and guardians	131–156	155
(1) Strict liability and liability for presumed and proven parental misconduct	132–138	156
(2) The Preconditions for and extent of parental duties	139–144	163
(3) The unlawful act of the child	145–152	170
(4) The objective of parental liability	153–154	176
(5) The problems of joint and several liability	155–156	179
b. Liability of other supervisors	157–159	180
2. Liability for pupils and apprentices	160–165	182
a. Liability of teachers and school governing bodies	160–163	182
b. Liability of training employers	164–165	186
3. Liability for other persons under supervision	166–167	187
4. Liability for executives and managers, employees, subcontractors, and agents	168–205	189
a. Liability of legal persons for their executives and managers	168–178	189
(1) Liability for others and for personal misconduct	168–170	189

Detailed Table of Contents

(2) The executive: issues of delict	171–174	192
(3) Liable legal persons	175	195
(4) Unlawful conduct by executives	176–178	196
b. Liability for employees, subcontractors, and agents	179–205	198
(1) Employers' liability: strict liability and presumed breach of duty	179–190	198
(2) Principal and servant	191–199	207
(3) Liability for independent contractors and agents	200–201	216
(4) Responsibility of employers for others and of employees for themselves	202–205	218
IV. The Law of Liability for Dangers Arising from Animals and Buildings and Land	206–236	223
1. Liability for damage caused by animals	208–222	225
a. Animals	208–209	225
b. Farm and 'luxury' animals: liability for animals and its causes of action	210–217	228
(1) Strict liability and liability for presumed breach of the duty of supervision	210–212	228
(2) The persons liable	213–217	231
c. The realization of a danger arising from an animal	218–222	237
(1) The animal's behaviour	218–221	237
(2) Persons protected by the provisions governing liability for animals	222	243
2. Liability for dangerous buildings and land	223–236	244
a. The starting point: Article 1386 Code Napoléon	223	244
b. Buildings and other structures	224–226	245
c. Collapse and falling parts of buildings	227–228	249
d. Insufficient maintenance and faulty construction: liability for disrepair of a thing or liability for misconduct?	229–231	252
e. Paths and trees	232–233	254
f. Persons who are liable and those who are protected	234–236	256

Detailed Table of Contents

Part 3: Scandinavian Liability Laws and the Common Law of Torts	237–366	259
I. The bases of liability for individual wrongful conduct	237–301	259
1. Tort and the law of damages in statute and judicial decisions	237–242	262
2. The primary elements of the Scandinavian law of delict	243–253	268
3. The common law of torts	254–301	281
a. English liability law: nominate torts and negligence	254–293	281
(1) An overview of the most important nominate torts	254–273	281
(a) Trespass	256–257	282
(b) Malicious prosecution	258	283
(c) Deceit, injurious falsehood, and passing off	259	284
(d) Further economic torts	260–261	285
(e) Private nuisance and the rule in Rylands v. Fletcher	262–267	287
(f) Public nuisance	268–270	292
(g) The protection of honour and rights in personality	271–273	295
(2) Liability based on negligence	274–288	297
(a) Negligence as an innominate tort	274	297
(b) The development and requirements of negligence	275–282	299
(c) The protected interests	283–287	305
(d) Liability for omissions	288	310
(3) Other peculiarities of English tort law	289–293	312
(a) Rules of procedure, limitation, and damages for specific torts	289–290	312
(b) Policy considerations	291–293	314
b. The Irish law of torts and the Scottish law of delict	294–301	316
(1) Ireland: A law of torts influenced by constitutional law	294–298	316
(2) Scotland: A law of delict under the influence of the common law	299–301	319

Detailed Table of Contents

II. The law of Scandinavia and the British Isles from the perspective of the remaining law of obligations of the codifications	302–366	322
1. Particular aspects of the law of liability for wrongful conduct	302–328	324
a. Breach of statutory duty	302–307	324
b. Liability for damage caused contrary to public policy, and interference in the freedom of others to pursue economic interests	308–314	329
(1) General	308–309	329
(2) Inducing breach of contract	310	331
(3) The protection of the individual's freedom to pursue economic interests	311–314	332
c. Liability of joint tortfeasors	315–323	334
(1) An overview of statutory principles	315	334
(2) Joint tortfeasors, concurrent tortfeasors, and concurrent wrongdoers	316–318	335
(3) Causation	319–323	339
d. Liability of children and mentally handicapped adults	324–328	342
(1) Children and young persons	324–327	342
(2) Handicapped adults	328	345
2. Liability for others	329–353	345
a. Liability for those in need of supervision	330–334	346
b. Liability of legal persons for the wrongful acts of their officers, liability for employees and for independent contractors	335–353	349
(1) Legal persons	335–336	349
(2) Liability for employees, agents, and other persons under some form of control	337–349	351
(a) Vicarious liability	337–338	351
(b) Employees, agents, and other persons under a form of control	339–343	353
(c) Other prerequisites of vicarious liability	344–349	357

Detailed Table of Contents

(3) Liability for independent contractors	350-353	361
3. Liability for animals and dangerous premises	354-366	364
a. Liability for animals	354-360	364
(1) An overview of the statutory sources	354-357	364
(2) The persons liable and the scope of strict liability for animals	358-360	368
b. Liability for dangerous premises	361-366	370
(1) The common law	361-362	370
(2) Occupiers' liability as governed by statute	363-366	371
 Part 4: Unification and Approximation of the Law of Delict within the European Union	 367-410	 375
I. Instruments of unification and approximation of laws	367-373	382
II. Unified law through state treaties	374-383	390
1. Unified law in peripheral areas of liability law	374-383	390
2. Unification of the law on liability for damage to the environment	379-383	395
a. Conventions in force	379-380	395
b. Conventions not yet in force	381-383	397
III. The European Union and its Directives: established law, proposals and projects	384-398	400
1. General outlook on the current state of the legislative approximation of laws in the European Union	384-393	400
a. Road traffic accidents	385-386	400
b. Environmental liability law	387-389	401
c. Consumer protection law	390-393	404
2. Directive law from the perspective of the common law of delict	394-398	407
a. General	394	407
b. Common provisions	395	408
c. Missed opportunities	396-398	410
IV. Non-statutory approximation of laws	399-410	412
1. The recommendations of the Council of Europe	400-402	412
2. Approximation through case-law	403-406	414

Detailed Table of Contents

3. Legal training and scholarship	407–408	418
4. Approximation of law through standard clauses: First steps towards a European code of obligations	409–410	420
Part 5: The Law of Delict in the Context of Private Law	411–552	423
I. The law of delict and contract law	413–506	424
1. An overview of the problems of liability straddling contract and tort	413–417	431
2. Development of basic principles of concurrence of actions from the law of obligations relating to pure economic loss	418–439	436
a. Restricted tortious liability and concurrence of actions	419–430	437
(1) Germany	419–422	437
(2) Greece, Denmark, and Portugal	423–424	440
(3) Italy and The Netherlands	425–426	442
(4) The common law	427–430	445
b. Broad liability in tort and non-cumul des responsabilités	431–439	449
(1) France: the primacy of contract	431–435	449
(2) Spain and Belgium	436–437	454
(3) Problems of demarcation when integrating third parties into a system prohibiting concurrence of actions	438–439	457
3. Issues of concurrence of actions regarding liability for personal injury and damage to the property of contract partners	440–458	459
a. Introduction	440–445	459
(1) Case types	440–441	459
(2) Concurrence of actions and protection of property: liability for damage caused by a product to itself	442–443	460
(3) Differences of classification of duties generally	444	464
(4) The significance of the distinction between contract and tort liability in other areas of law	445	465

Detailed Table of Contents

b. Liability in contract without liability in tort	446–448	466
c. Common prerequisites of liability, differing limitation periods, and variations in the extent of liability	449–455	470
(1) Differing limitation periods	449–453	470
(2) Differences in the extent of liability	454–455	475
d. The effects on tort of relaxing contractual liability	456–458	477
4. Protective duties and transferred loss between contract and tort	459–491	480
a. Differences of characterization of liability for personal injury and for damage to the property of contracting parties	460–470	480
(1) A broad law of tort, a narrow law of contract	461–462	480
(2) The common law duty of care	463	483
(3) A narrow law of tort and a broad law of contract: Germany and Austria	464–467	485
(4) Contractual obligations de sécurité , non-contractual fault liability, and non-contractual gardien liability	468–470	488
b. Contractual damages in the absence of a contract?	471–485	492
(1) Culpa in contrahendo	472–477	492
(a) The origins and essence of culpa in contrahendo	472–476	492
(b) Liability for breaches of protective duties	477	497
(2) Contractual duties for the benefit of third parties	478–482	498
(3) Protective duties in contract chains	483–485	503
c. Transferred loss between contract and tort	486–491	507
5. Overlap between contract and tort: liability for pure economic loss suffered by third parties	492–506	512

Detailed Table of Contents

a.	Liability of agents and assistants to the principal's contractual partners	493–496	513
b.	Liability for misinformation given by one party directly to another	497–500	516
c.	Liability of professionals to third parties to a contract	501–506	520
II.	Tort: unauthorized conduct of another's affairs and unjust enrichment	507–525	525
1.	Tort and unauthorized conduct of another's affairs	508–516	527
a.	Overview	508–509	527
b.	The legal status of the authorized agent acting on another's behalf	510–514	528
(1)	Favourable changes to liability	510–511	528
(2)	Rescue cases	512–514	530
c.	Liability for authorized conduct against the will of another, and liability for unauthorized conduct for personal gain	515–516	533
2.	Comparison of liability for unjust enrichment and liability in tort	517–525	535
a.	Condictio indebiti, condictio sine causa, and tort law	517–518	535
b.	Liability independent of both fault and loss for interference with the rights of others	519–525	538
(1)	General	519	538
(2)	Elements of unjust enrichment in the law of tort	520–523	539
(3)	Elements of tort in the law of unjust enrichment	524–525	543
III.	Tort and property law	526–552	545
1.	General	526–531	546
2.	Liability for land use damaging adjacent properties	532–544	550
a.	Content and extent of property law	532–533	550
b.	Substantial interferences	534	552
c.	Forms of liability without fault	535–544	553
3.	Liability for other interference with property	545–548	562
4.	Exemptions from liability for the bona fide possessor of another's goods	549–552	565

Detailed Table of Contents

Part 6: Delict, Constitutional, and Criminal Law	553–628	569
I. The law of delict and constitutional law	553–599	569
1. The influence of human rights on relationships between individuals	553–561	573
a. General overview	553–554	573
b. The legislator's freedom to choose a system of compensation	555	575
c. The state's duty to protect human rights as between its individual citizens	556–560	576
d. Further problematic areas between constitutional law and delict	561	581
2. Judicial review of statutes	562–564	582
3. Tort law and equal opportunities	565–569	585
a. Sexual equality	565–566	585
b. Further cases of unequal treatment	567–568	587
c. Discrimination against individuals by other individuals	569	589
4. Tort law as the manifestation of the guarantee of human rights other than those to equal treatment	570–596	591
a. Human rights protecting primarily the plaintiff	571–590	591
(1) Freedom of movement	571	591
(2) Life and bodily integrity	572–579	593
(3) Protection of privacy	580–588	600
(a) Wrongful birth and wrongful life	581–583	601
(b) The right to privacy and environmental protection	584–585	606
(c) Self respect, reputation, and the protection of privacy	586–588	607
(4) Other rights and objects of legal protection	589–590	609
b. The liberties and protection of the tortfeasor	591–596	611
(1) Freedom of expression, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly	592–594	612
(2) General freedom of action and the prohibition against disproportionality	595–596	615

Detailed Table of Contents

5. Separation of powers and judge-made law replacing codified law	597–599	617
a. General overview	597	617
b. Developments in French and Dutch road traffic third-party liability law	598–599	619
II. The law of delict and criminal law	600–628	621
1. Punishment without damages	600–601	623
2. Damages without punishment	602–604	625
3. Damages as punishment	605–612	627
a. Compensation orders	606–607	627
b. Punitive damages	608–612	628
4. Punishment to produce moral satisfaction	613	631
5. Specific reactions of tort law to criminal conduct	614–623	632
a. Loss of protection from liability	614	632
b. Extension of the scope of liability	615–617	633
c. Harmonization of civil and criminal limitation periods	618–623	634
6. Same terminology, different content?	624–628	636
a. General overview	624–625	636
b. Negligence in private and criminal law	626–628	638
Index		641