

■ IN BRIEF	6	Exxon exits the Dow ● TikTok sues Trump
■ OPINION	7	The U.S. needs a coherent strategy to face Putin's Russia
■ AGENDA	7	India's first-quarter GDP ● A new Mercedes S-Class
■ REMARKS	8	Dear Fed, it's me, the stock market. Thanks!
1 BUSINESS	10	Convenience stores go online to counter the Covid slump
	12	Chinese factories wish for a very merry Christmas
	13	Blue Apron's CEO says the home-cooking boom will last
2 TECHNOLOGY/ VIDEO GAMES	15	The video game biz is hot, but issues of fairness remain
	17	Lockdown boredom fuels big spending by players
	18	All work and no perks for the game industry's permatemps
	19	Microsoft brings the Netflix subscription model to gaming
	21	Why Minecraft and Roblox are on your kid's syllabus
	22	▼ E-sports teams get serious about training

	24	Sony's The Last of Us Part II ups gaming's cinematic game
3 FINANCE	26	No revenue, no business, and plenty of willing IPO buyers
	28	Inflation-wary investors turn to gold, Bitcoin—and whisky
	29	Investing in racial diversity is hobbled by a lack of data
4 ECONOMICS	30	Suburban home sales are going through the roof
	32	Covid sends India's migrants home to caste discrimination
5 POLITICS	34	Federal small-biz aid, $1 billion of it, may have gone astray
	36	Once solidly red, Georgia could flip the Senate to blue
+ SOLUTIONS/ RETIREMENT	38	How to replenish Social Security's dwindling trust fund
	40	Low bond yields may put the 60/40 strategy out to pasture
■ PURSUITS	59	Virgil Abloh predicts the clouds over fashion will soon clear
	62	This fall, make like a fisherman and stay warm in these knits
	64	High-end tailors take measures to keep suitmaking alive
	66	Brand-name quality without the brand-name price
	67	Bulgari's Barocko jewelry collection will turn heads
■ LAST THING	68	Honeybees bounce back, but they're still vulnerable

FEATURES

42

The American Fuel for Made-in-Mexico Drugs

To make heroin and meth, cartels exploit chemicals made by U.S. companies

48

Shut Up and Work

Employees say top U.S. businesses are banning talk about Covid-19 outbreaks

54

Where Billions of the OxyContin Fortune Flowed

How the Sacklers moved cash in the years before their company's bankruptcy