Table of Contents

Preface viii
Acknowledgments xii

Introduction 1

Modernism in Music 1
Other Trends 5

1 Scales, Harmony, and Referential Collections 7

Tertian Harmony 7
PLR Transformations and Voice Leading Parsimony 10
Non-Tertian Harmony 13
Other Well-Known Chords 17
Scales and Referential Collections 21

2 Pitch and Interval 43

Integer Notation 43
Mod 12 Arithmetic 46
Inversion 47
Intervals 50
Interval Cycles 57

3 Sets and Segmentation 66

Ordered and Unordered Sets 66
Inverted Sets 69
Order Operations 75
Pitch and Pc Cycles 76
A Brief Introduction to Segmentation 78
Analysis of Witold Lutoslawski's Symphony No. 1, III 78

4 Unordered Sets and Their Operations 92

Transposition 92
T_n/T_nI Mappings 98
T^p_n/T^p_nI Mappings 102
Prime Form 104
Some Further Observations about Prime Forms 106

5 Set-Class Analysis 115

Set Classes 115
Inclusion Relations 119
T_n and T_nI Self-Mappings 123
Atonal Voice Leading 127

6 Ordered Pitch Sets and Their Operations 134

Transposed Ordered Pitch Sets (T^p_n) 134
Inversion Followed by Transposition (T^p_nI) 135
Retrograde and Retrograde Inversion 136
Motives 137
Imbrication and Interpolation 139
Motivic Alterations 142
Other Melodic Techniques 145
Mottos 150

7 Rhythm and Contour 163

Contour Analysis 163
Analysis of Rhythm and Meter 168

8 Ordered Pc Sets and Rows 183

The Twelve-Tone Method 186
Matrices 189
Invariance, Interval Symmetry, and All-Interval Rows 193
Combinatoriality 195
Pitch-Space Attributes of Twelve-Tone Music 202
Aggregate Composition 204
Integral Serialism 205

9 Texture and Sound Color 218

Some Textural Features of Twentieth-Century Music 219
Coloristic Music 229
Sound and Silence 235

Aural Skills Supplement 254

Appendices

Appendix A 271
Appendix B 272
Appendix C 275

Notes 277
Acknowledgment of Sources 287
Subject and Author Index 293
Index of Musical Examples 297