

Contents

Foreword.....	9
----------------------	----------

Mass Communication and Marketing Communication.....	13
--	-----------

Hana Srpová

1 Mass communication.....	13
2 The media.....	14
3 Theories on the influence of the media.....	18
4 Models of mass communication.....	22
5 Marketing communication and advertising.....	25
6 Symbiosis of journalistic and advertising discourses.....	27

Manipulation and Persuasion.....	33
---	-----------

Hana Srpová

New Trends in the Czech Media.....	43
---	-----------

Pavel Pácl

Television: the phenomenon of the second half of the twentieth century.....	44
“We have been enjoying Nova for twelve years”.....	48
Europe and America.....	50
The media and politics in the new situation.....	52

Persuasion and Manipulation in Political Journalism.....	57
---	-----------

Jaroslav Bartošek

1 Introduction.....	57
2 General concepts and terms.....	60
3 Influencing in political discourse.....	65
4 Analyzed daily newspapers.....	71
5 Topics analyzed, relation of the press to the topics.....	72
6 Producers of the analyzed texts.....	73
7 Linguistic means of influencing.....	78
8 Means of influencing.....	87
9 Conclusion.....	93

The Effects of the Mass Media on Political Communication.....95

Pavel Pácl

Empirical surprises: media innocence.....	96
Political communication and consumer advertising.....	100
On the decisive significance of the communicative situation	104
On changes in cultural norms and the tabloidization of the media	107
Post-election postscript.....	111

Target Group – The Decisive Factor in the Form of Advertising113

Hana Šrpová

1 Children.....	116
1.1 Children in the main role.....	116
1.2 Children as target group	119
1.3 Summary	127
2 Teenagers.....	128
2.1 Teenagers in a double role – as object and target group.....	128
2.2 Specific features of texts in advertisements for teenagers.....	130
2.3 Summary	131
3 Women.....	132
3.1 Women in the main role	132
3.2 Specific features of texts in advertisements for women.....	139
3.3 Summary	142
4 Men.....	143
4.1 Men as the objects and target group of advertising.....	143
4.2 Specific features of texts in advertisements for men.....	148
4.3 Summary	151
5 Conclusion.....	152

Cultural and Linguistic Sources of Persuasion in Czech Advertising.....155

Světlá Čmejrková

1 Allusion to Czech culture, history and ethnicity	156
1.1 The topos of shared origin.....	156
1.2 Folk proverbs and sayings, common knowledge, and Czech cars.....	157
1.3 Czech history, the Czech language, and Czech beer.....	160
1.4 Ethnic stereotypes of other cultures	163
1.5 The ethnic stereotype of Czech-ness in the eyes of foreigners.....	164
1.6 Parody of advertising discourse	168
2 The suggestiveness of advertising messages.....	169

2.1 Advertising as dialogue with the receiver	169
2.2 Addressing receivers and manipulating their space	172
2.2.1 Grammatical manipulation.....	173
2.2.2 The magical function of addressing	175
2.3 Analysis of advertising speech acts	176
2.3.1 The cooperative principle.....	177
2.3.2 The politeness principle	179
2.3.3 The 'face' of the receiver.....	181
3 Advertising as parasite:
from the Ten Commandments to election manifestos	183
3.1 Carriers of advertising messages.....	183
3.2 Allusions to unique texts	184
3.3 Allusions to text schemata.....	186
3.4 Advertising and political discourse	188
4 Conclusion: Persuasiveness and sincerity	191

Nonverbal Elements of Persuasion in Journalism and Advertising.....201

Alena Jaklová

1 Nonverbal elements of persuasion in journalism	201
2 Nonverbal elements of persuasion in advertising.....	210
2.1 Nonverbal elements in printed advertising.....	211
2.2 Text and lettering in advertising.....	216
2.3 Image	226
2.4 Colour.....	231
2.5 Motifs in advertising images.....	236
2.6 Image and text	238
3 Conclusion.....	246

Literature.....247