

Table of Contents

Introduction

vii

A. The Project vii ■ B. History and Myth ix ■ C. Rome x
■ D. Germany xiii ■ E. Eschmann in Canada xv ■ F. Academic Views xx ■ G. Eschmann and Thomism xxiii ■ H. Professor Jordan's Contribution xxv ■ I. Additional Editorial Principles xxvii

PART ONE. ESCHMANNUS BELLATOR

Saint Thomas Aquinas, O.P., the Summary of Theology I-II: Prologue and Question 1, Articles 1-8

3

A. Preliminaries 3 ■ B. Reflections on the Proposed Project 6 ■ C. The Prologue 8 ■ D. The School as Context 10 ■ E. Difficulty of Definition 21 ■ F. The Summa theologiae in the History of Theology 24 ■ G. Thirteenth-Century Developments 30 ■ H. Remarks on the Structure of the First Five Questions of Summa theologiae I-II, and Especially of the First Question 36 ■ I. The Structure of the First Question: On the ultimate end of the human being, divided into eight Articles 37 ■ J. The Sources of the First Question 43 ■ K. Dubium 46 ■ L. The Exposition of Article 1 47 ■ M. The Exposition of Article 2 74 ■ N. The Exposition of Article 3 85 ■ O. The Exposition of Article 4 98 ■ P. The Exposition of Article 5 112 ■ Q. The Exposition of Article 6 127 ■ R. The Exposition of Article 7 141 ■ S. The Exposition of Article 8 148 ■ T. Conclusion 152

PART TWO. ESCHMANNUS AEDIFICATOR

Saint Thomas Aquinas, O.P., the Summary of Theology I-II: The Ethics of the Image of God	159
A. Prudential Ethics 159 ■ B. The Philosophy of Prudence 174 ■ C. The Moral and Intellectual Context of Prudence 178 ■ D. The Driver's-Seat Virtue: Prudence and Truth 197 ■ E. Law and the Liberty of the Christian 211
Bibliography	233
A. Saint Thomas Aquinas 233 ■ B. Other Sources 234
Index	237
A. Index of Names 237 ■ B. Index of Subjects 239	