

Contents

Tables and Figures	x
Preface	xv
1 Introduction	1
The Comparative Study of Public Opinion	3
Choosing Nations to Compare	4
A New Style of Citizen Politics	6
Suggested Readings	10
Notes	10
PART ONE: POLITICS AND THE PUBLIC	11
2 The Nature of Mass Beliefs	13
The Supercitizen	13
The Unsophisticated Citizen	14
Elitist Theory of Democracy	17
Political Sophistication Reconsidered	18
Politics and the Public	28
Suggested Readings	30
Notes	31
3 How We Participate	32
Modes of Participation	33
Voting	36
Campaign Activity	40
Direct Contacting	44
Communal Activity	45
Protest and Contentious Action	48
Wired Activism	52
Changing Publics and Political Participation	53
Suggested Readings	55
Notes	55

4 Who Participates?	57
The Civic Voluntarism Model	57
Who Votes?	59
Campaign Activity	64
Direct Contacting	65
Communal Activity	66
Who Protests?	66
Internet Activism	69
Comparing the Correlates of Different Activities	70
Participation and Contemporary Democracies	72
Suggested Readings	75
Notes	75
PART TWO: POLITICAL ORIENTATIONS	77
5 Values in Change	79
The Nature of Value Change	80
The Distribution of Values	84
The Process of Value Change	86
The Consequences of Value Change	91
Value Change and Value Stability	93
Suggested Readings	95
Notes	95
6 Issues and Ideological Orientations	97
Domestic Policy Opinions	98
Foreign Policy Opinions	113
Left/Right Orientations	115
Public Opinion and Political Change	117
Suggested Readings	119
Notes	120
PART THREE: THE ELECTORAL CONNECTION	121
7 Elections and Political Parties	123
An Overview of Four Party Systems	124
The History of Party Systems	128
The Structure of Political Alignments	132
Contemporary Party Systems	139
Suggested Readings	140
Notes	141

8	The Social Bases of Party Support	143
	The Social Group Model of Voting	143
	Social Class and the Vote	145
	Why Is Class Voting Decreasing?	151
	Religion and the Vote	152
	Other Social Group Differences	160
	New Politics and the Vote	161
	The Transformation of Social Cleavages	166
	Suggested Readings	168
	Notes	169
9	Partisanship and Voting	170
	A Sociopsychological Model of Voting	170
	Partisan Attitudes	172
	Learning Partisanship	174
	The Impact of Partisanship	178
	Partisan Dealignment	180
	Consequences of Dealignment	183
	Causes of Dealignment	185
	Politics in a Dealigned Era	189
	Suggested Readings	190
	Notes	191
10	Attitudes and Electoral Behavior	193
	Principles of Issue Voting	194
	Position Issues and the Vote	198
	Performance Issues and the Vote	205
	Candidate Images and the Vote	207
	The End of the Causal Funnel	208
	One Electorate or Many?	211
	Citizen Politics and Voting Behavior	213
	Suggested Readings	215
	Notes	215
11	Political Representation	218
	Collective Correspondence	219
	Dyadic Correspondence	223
	The Party Government Model	226
	Patterns of Political Representation	231
	Suggested Readings	232
	Notes	233

PART FOUR: DEMOCRACY AND THE FUTURE	235
12 Citizens and the Democratic Process	237
Aspects of Political Support	239
Declining Confidence in Authorities	241
Views of Political Institutions	244
Support for a Democratic Regime	248
Community Support	250
Dissatisfied Democrats	251
Suggested Readings	258
Notes	259
Appendix A: Statistical Primer	261
Appendix B: Major Data Sources	267
Appendix C: 2004 International Social Survey Codebook	272
References	299
Index	323
PART THREE: THE ELECTORAL CONNECTION	121
11 Political Representation	121
Collective Correspondence	124
Dyadic Correspondence	127
The Party Government Model	132
Patterns of Political Representation	139
Suggested Readings	141
Notes	141
10 Attitudes and Electoral Behavior	97
Principles of Issue Voting	97
Position Issues and the Vote	99
Performance Issues and the Vote	111
Candidate Images and the Vote	114
The End of the Causal Funnel	117
One-Electorate or Many?	117
Citizen Politics and Voting Behavior	121
Suggested Readings	121
Notes	121
9 Elections and Political Parties	114
An Overview of Four Party Systems	114
The History of Party Systems	117
The Party Government Model	121
Patterns of Political Representation	127
Suggested Readings	131
Notes	131