

Contents

List of figures	x
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	xii

PART 1

ON TELEVISION AND TELEVISION STUDIES

1	Television and tele-literacy	3
	Television today	3
	Tele-literacy	5
2	The history of television in the United Kingdom	10
	Conditions of possibility	10
3	The contemporary landscape: UK channels and public service	18
	The three ages of television	18
	The BBC and its future	19
	Commercial UK broadcasters and public service	22
	Ofcom and regulation	25
	Other UK-based channels	28
	Independent production companies	28
	Kate Beal: Woodcut Media	32

4	The contemporary landscape: globalisation, multichannel and multiplatform	35
	Globalisation and multichannel	35
	Online and multiplatform	37
5	The landscape of television in the United Kingdom: text	41
	The age of superabundance: interstitials and paratexts	41
	The linear flow: scheduling and branding	42
	Cross-platform, paratexts and interactivity	45
	About genres	47
	Overview of the main television genres	48
	A note on ratings, funding and formats	52
6	Studying television	54
	Studying television: an overview	54
	Mapping the field	55
PART 2
THE PRACTITIONERS' PERSPECTIVE
7	Working in television: an overview	65
	Working in television	67
	Programme production types	69
	Production processes	72
	Television work areas	74
8	Producing and production management	76
	Producers	76
	Production management	78
	Abigail McKenzie: Talent Team Assistant, BBC Children's Department	84
9	The director's concerns	86
	Director and crew	86
	The director's concerns	89
	Types of shot	94
	A fresh perception of the world	102

10	The visual dimension: cameras, lighting and the cinematographer	104
	Cameras and recording media 104
	Cameras and digital cinematography 107
	Visions of light 111
	Lighting: basic principles 113
11	Sound recording and the audio space	119
	Television and the flow of sound 119
	Sound recording and audio design 122
	Sound quality 127
12	Studios and studio work	136
	'Live' and 'as live' 136
	Working in the studio 137
	Studios 144
	QVC: the shopping channel 145
13	Post-production processes: editing	151
	Editing and post-production 151
	The work of editing 154
	Editing processes 157
	Styles of editing 159
	The final stages 163
14	Sound, visual effects and preparing for broadcast	165
	The aural dimension: creating the audio space 165
	Sound editing 168
	Graphics and visual effects 172
	Post-production: preparing for broadcast and distribution 179
	Luke Sothinathan: VT technician 181
PART 3
PROGRAMMES AND GENRES		183
15	Drama and television narrative	185
	Thinking about narrative 185

	Fictional narratives: drama	186
	Narrative theory	192
	Narrative realism and other realisms	200
	Identity and narration	204
16	From documentary to factual entertainment		207
	Contemporary factual programming	207
	Brief history of UK documentary: the creative treatment of actuality	209
	Documentary and contemporary subgenres	212
	Research for factual programmes	215
	Interview techniques	219
	Documentary and factual ethics	223
	Anne Parisio: Parisio Productions	229
	Note	229
17	News, politics and television as information		232
	LISETTE JOHNSTON
	History	232
	Types of news and current affairs	233
	Television news teams	235
	The news agenda	240
	Producing the news	242
	Gio Ulleri: journalist/filmmaker	245
	PART 4
	TRAINING AND INDUSTRY CONTEXTS		249
18	Training, education and getting into the industry		251
	Training and getting into the industry	251
	RedBalloon and Solent Productions	254
19	Opening up the industry: diversity and access		257
	Diversity and access	257
	Relevant documents	260
	MAMA Youth Project	260
	Bob Clarke: Executive Producer, MAMA Youth Project	262

Jonny Yapi – my story 264

Training and opportunities: a list of useful references 266

20 Hannah's diary 268

Hannah's diary: April–November 2015 268

Contacts for entry-level jobs 275

21 Making programmes: pitching and commissioning 276

Turning an idea into a commission 276

Opportunities and funds 281

Glossary 285

Bibliography 301

Programme references 308

Index 323