

Table of contents

Preface to the handbook series	v
Introducing the pragmatics of society Karin Aijmer and Gisle Andersen	1
I. Social, regional and situational factors
1. Doing age and ageing: language, discourse and social interaction Alexandra Georgakopoulou and Anna Charalambidou	31
2. Gender identities and discourse Bróna Murphy	53
3. Regional pragmatic variation María Elena Placencia	79
4. Pragmatics in multilingual language situations Susanne Mühleisen	115
II. The language system and pragmalinguistic features
5. Speech and writing: linguistic styles enabled by the technology of literacy Douglas Biber	137
6. Phonetics and the management of talk-in-interaction Gareth Walker	153
7. Prosody and pragmatic effects Anne Wichmann	181

III. Pragmatic markers and the notion of speaker attitude

8. Pragmatic markers in a sociopragmatic perspective
Ad Foolen 217
9. Interjections
Neal R. Norrick 243
10. Vagueness and hedging
Maryann Overstreet 293

IV. Different interpretational levels – speech acts, politeness and beyond

11. Requests and orders: a cross-linguistic study of their linguistic construction and interactional organization
Carmen Taleghani-Nikazm 321
12. Appreciatory sounds and expressions of embodied pleasure used as compliments
Andrea Golato 361
13. Politeness and impoliteness
Jonathan Culpeper 393
14. Honorifics and address terms
Sachiko Ide and Kishiko Ueno 439

V. Sequential patterns and activities

15. Social and pragmatic variation in the sequential organization of talk
Jan Svennevig and Ronny Johansen 473
16. Turn-taking in conversation
Jakob Steensig 501
17. Pauses and hesitations
Anna-Brita Stenström 537

VI. Pragmatics and the notion of culture

18. Cultural variation in language use
Anna Gladkova 571
19. Intercultural rhetoric and language of healthcare
Ulla Connor 593

VII. Pragmatics and the larger societal context

20. Global and intercultural communication
Juliane House 607
21. Critical discourse analysis: overview, challenges, and perspectives
Ruth Wodak 627
22. Pragmatics, linguistic anthropology and history
Leila Monaghan 651
- About the authors 689
- Author index 695
- Subject index 701