

CONTENTS

List of contributors

Foreword by Morinari Watanabe

PART I

Physiology for gymnastics

Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives

Monèm Jemni

1 Energetics of gymnastics

Monèm Jemni

2 Cardiovascular and respiratory systems of the gymnasts

Monèm Jemni

3 Diet, nutrition, supplementation and related health issues in gymnastics

Monèm Jemni

Review questions

PART II

Applied coaching sciences in gymnastics

Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives

Monèm Jemni

xiii

xv

1

3

5

23

32

38

41

43

viii Contents

4	Fitness model of high level gymnasts William A. Sands	45
5	Training principles in gymnastics Monèm Jemni and William A. Sands	49
6	Specific physical and physiological assessments of gymnasts Monèm Jemni	55
7	Jumping skills: importance, assessment and training Michel Marina	62
	Review questions	70
PART III
	Biomechanics for gymnastics	73
	Learning outcomes, objectives and introduction Monèm Jemni and William A. Sands	75
8	Linear kinematics William A. Sands	79
9	Angular kinematics William A. Sands	99
10	Linear kinetics William A. Sands	107
11	Angular kinetics William A. Sands	116
12	Use of body inverse dynamics to evaluate reaction force during vault and floor somersaults in artistic gymnastics Bessem Mkaouer	127
	Review questions	132
PART IV
	Psychology for gymnastics	135
	Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives Monèm Jemni	138

13	Task demands and career transitions in gymnastics: from novices to experts and the stages of learning across the career John H. Salmela	139
14	Coaching and parenting John H. Salmela	151
15	Mental skill development and variation in gymnasts John H. Salmela	156
16	OMSAT-3 mental skills assessment John H. Salmela	162
17	Closing the circle of mental skills training: providing mental skills feedback to gymnasts John H. Salmela	187
18	Perception of complex movements Alexandra Pizzera	192
	Review questions	202
PART V
	Interaction between physiological, biomechanical and psychological aspects of gymnastic performance	205
	Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives Monèm Jemni	206
19	The physiologist's point of view Monèm Jemni	207
20	The biomechanist's point of view Patrice Holvoet	210
21	The psychologist's point of view John H. Salmela	214
	Conclusion	218
	Review questions	219

PART VI
Motor learning in gymnastics 221

Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives	223
Monèm Jemni
22 Motor learning versus pedagogy	225
William A. Sands
23 Fundamental concepts and definitions in motor learning	226
William A. Sands
24 Stages of motor learning	228
William A. Sands
25 Feedback	230
William A. Sands
26 Transfer of learning tasks to a final skill	233
William A. Sands
27 Transfer strategies	235
William A. Sands
28 Practice	237
William A. Sands
29 Special considerations in gymnastics learning	245
William A. Sands
30 Advanced applied example of motor control 1: the running approach when vaulting	253
Elizabeth J. Bradshaw
31 Advanced applied example of motor control 2: rotations and twisting in gymnastics, is there a universal rotational scheme?	255
Flavio Bessi
32 Advanced applied example of motor control 3: the impact of Elastic Technologies on Artistic Gymnastics – a special case study from Brazil	266
Marco Antonio Coelho Bortoleto
Review questions	275

PART VII
Injuries in gymnastics	279
Learning outcomes, introduction and objectives	281
Monèm Jemni
33 Injury is a serious issue	283
William A. Sands
34 What is an injury?	286
William A. Sands
35 Characteristics of gymnastics injuries	288
William A. Sands
36 Injury location	291
William A. Sands
37 Injury countermeasures	301
William A. Sands
38 Clinical injury cases in artistic gymnastics: the big and the small ones	311
Brooke Lemmen
39 Monitoring gymnasts for injury prevention	323
Elizabeth J. Bradshaw
Review questions	334
References	337
Index	375