

CONTENTS

List of Figures and Tables	ix
Apologia	xi
Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xvii

PART ONE – THEORY

1	Introduction – Where Has QOL Come From?	3
	QOL as the State of States	3
	Varieties of Social Indicators	10
	More Recent Developments	18
	QOL as a State of Persons	22
	In Summary	24
	Notes	24
	Study Questions	25
	Suggestions for Further Reading	25
2	A Life of Quality – Just What Does QOL Mean?	26
	Preamble	26
	Defining Quality of Life	27
	Definitions of QOL	29
	Quality of Life Defined as a Population-level Construct	30
	Quality of Life as an Individual-level Construct	49
	Universal QOL Definitions	49
	The Forced Abstraction of the Meaning of QOL	57
	In Summary	60
	Note	61
	Study Questions	61
	Suggestions for Further Reading	62
3	Whose Quality of Life Is It Anyway?	63
	Conceptual and Philosophical Issues	63

The Views of 'Patients'	73
Quality of Life and the Value of Life	74
Can QOL Assessment Negatively Affect Quality of Life?	76
In Summary	81
Notes	82
Study Questions	83
Suggestions for Further Reading	83
4 Quantitative and Qualitative Approaches	84
Introduction – What is QOL Research for?	84
Quantitative Approaches to QOL Research	88
Qualitative Approaches	103
A Synthesis?	115
Notes	116
Study Questions	117
Suggestions for Further Reading	117
PART TWO – PRACTICE
5 Researching QOL as Cultural Object	121
Quality of Life in Popular Culture – the Contribution of Foucauldian Thought	122
The Psy-complex and the Social Regulation of (Dis)order	125
Lifestyles and Intellectual Disability in 'Community Care' Policy: The Uses of QOL	128
'Quality of Life' – Core Theme in the Corporate Discourse	130
In Summary	136
Notes	138
Study Questions	138
Suggestions for Further Reading	138
6 QOL in Health and Social Care Research	139
Health-related QOL	139
What are QALYs and DALYs?	143
Utility Measures	147
DALYs and Their Difficulties	156
Difficulties with the QALY and DALY Approach: Dying and Disability	162
In Summary	165

Notes	165
Study Questions	165
Suggestions for Further Reading	166
7 QOL Research with Special Populations	167
Applied QOL Research	167
Population-Specific Measures – the Work of Schallock and Keith	169
Population-Specific QOL Measures as Service Evaluation Tools	170
Britain – the Rapley and Beyer (1996, 1998) Studies	171
Australia – the Rapley and Hopgood (1997) Study	176
QOL Research with Psychiatric Populations	180
Psychiatric Studies	181
In Summary	186
Notes	186
Study Questions	188
Suggestions for Further Reading	189
8 Researching QOL as a Psychological Object	190
QOL as a Psychological Object	190
Subjective Well-being as Brain State	191
A Critique of the Homeostatic Model	191
Affective and Cognitive Components of Subjective Well-being	193
A Normative Standard for Subjective Well-being	194
A Role for Circumstances?	195
Life Events and Subjective Well-being	196
Personality and Subjective Well-being	197
'Buffers' of Subjective Well-being	200
Motivation, Needs and Subjective Well-being	202
Problems with the Assumption of Met Needs	203
Adaptation to Life and Subjective Well-being	206
Subjective Well-being, Joy and Depression	208
In Summary	210
Notes	211
Study Questions	211
Suggestions for Further Reading	211
9 Should We 'Hang up Quality of Life as a Hopeless Term'?	212
Rethinking Quality of Life	213

Quality of Life as a Member's Term	216
Ways Forward	220
Study Questions	225
Suggestions for Further Reading	225
Appendices	227
1 Transcription Conventions	227
2 The WHOQOL-BREF	229
3 Resources	249
References	252
Index	278