
Contents

| | |
|--|------------|
| Preface to the first edition | vii |
| Preface to the second edition | xi |
| Acknowledgements | xii |
| Introduction | xiii |
| 1 Socrates on names | 1 |
| 2 Aristotle on metaphor | 20 |
| 3 The Bible on the origin and diversification of language | 36 |
| 4 Varro on linguistic regularity | 47 |
| 5 Quintilian on linguistic education | 60 |
| 6 Thomas of Erfurt on the modes of signifying | 76 |
| 7 Caxton on dialects | 87 |
| 8 The Port-Royal Grammar: Arnauld and Lancelot on the rational foundations of grammar | 95 |
| 9 Wilkins on a real character | 110 |
| 10 Locke on the imperfection of words | 126 |
| 11 Condillac on the origin of language and thought | 139 |
| 12 Horne Tooke on etymological metaphysics | 155 |
| 13 Humboldt on linguistic and mental diversity | 171 |
| 14 Müller on linguistic evolution | 185 |
| 15 Frege on sense and reference | 196 |
| 16 Saussure on language and thought | 209 |
| Bibliography and suggestions for further reading | 225 |
| Index | 231 |