

Contents

List of tables, figures and boxes	vii
Foreword	xiii
Zofija Mazej Kukovič
Acknowledgements	xv
About the contributors	xvii
Chapter 1 Responding to the challenge of cancer in Europe	1
Delia-Marina Alexe, Tit Albreht, Martin McKee and Michel P Coleman
Chapter 2 The burden of cancer in Europe	7
Freddie Bray
Chapter 3 The causes of cancer and policies for prevention	41
Jose M Martin-Moreno and Guðjón Magnússon
Chapter 4 Cancer screening	69
Matti Hakama, Michel P Coleman, Delia-Marina Alexe and Anssi Auvinen
Chapter 5 Drugs for cancer	93
Karol Sikora
Chapter 6 Organizing a comprehensive framework for cancer control	113
Robert Haward
Chapter 7 Changes in the management of cancer: the example of colorectal cancer	135
Jean Faivre and Côme Lepage

Chapter 8 Survival of European cancer patients Franco Berrino and Riccardo Capocaccia	151
Chapter 9 Information on cancer Andrea Micheli and Paolo Baili	177
Chapter 10 Cancer patients - partners for change Hildrun Sundseth and Lynn Faulds Wood	191
Chapter 11 The role of psychosocial oncology in cancer care Luigi Grassi and Luzia Travado	209
Chapter 12 Dying with cancer, living well with advanced cancer Irene J Higginson and Massimo Costantini	231
Chapter 13 Closing the gap: cancer in central and eastern Europe Witold Zatoński and Joanna Didkowska	253
Chapter 14 Cancer control in Slovenia: achievements, shortcomings and opportunities Maja Primic Žakelj and Tina Žagar	279
Chapter 15 Researching cancer Tanja Čufer and Richard Sullivan	297
Chapter 16 Making progress against cancer Tit Albreht, Martin McKee, Delia-Marina Alexe, Michel P Coleman and Jose M Martin-Moreno	315