

Contents

Notes on Contributors		xi
Preface		xv
Acknowledgements		xvii
Introduction: Rethinking Northern Ireland	David Miller	xix

Part One Explanations, Ideologies and Strategies

CHAPTER 1	Colonialism and Academic Representations of the Troubles	David Miller	3
CHAPTER 2	Religion, Ethnicity and Colonialism as Explanations of the Northern Ireland Conflict	Pamela Clayton	40
CHAPTER 3	Irish Nationalism and the Conflict in Northern Ireland	Joseph Ruane and Jennifer Todd	55
CHAPTER 4	'New Unionism', British Nationalism and the Prospects for a Negotiated Settlement in Northern Ireland	Liam O'Dowd	70
CHAPTER 5	Walking Backwards into the Sunset: British Policy and the Insecurity of Northern Ireland	Mike Tomlinson	94

Part Two Spaces, Structures and Struggles

CHAPTER 6	Rethinking National Problems in a Transnational Context	James Anderson	125
CHAPTER 7	Politics, the Economy and Peace in Northern Ireland	Ronnie Munck and Douglas Hamilton	146

RETHINKING NORTHERN IRELAND

CHAPTER 8	Feminism and Nationalism in Ireland	Carol Coulter	160
CHAPTER 9	Is Sectarianism Racism? Theorising the Racism/Sectarianism Interface	Robbie McVeigh	179

Part Three Culture, Conflict and Representation

CHAPTER 10	Don't Mention the War: Culture in Northern Ireland	Ronan Bennett	199
CHAPTER 11	Representing Gender and National Identity	Sarah Edge	211
CHAPTER 12	Modernising History: The real politik of heritage and cultural tradition in Northern Ireland	Desmond Bell	228
CHAPTER 13	What's Wrong with Multiculturalism? Liberalism and the Irish Conflict	Bill Rolston	253
	Bibliography		275
	Index		308