

Contents

I
	Introduction by Michal Mejstřík	11
II
	Restructuring and Development of the Banking Sector in Advanced Transition Country: The Czech Republic by Michal Mejstřík, Anna Dvořáková and Magda Neprašová	19
1	Initial factors influencing restructuring and development of the financial sector in the early transition period	21
1.1	Inherited structures and factors influencing the initial development of the financial sector	21
1.1.1	Macroeconomic background	22
1.1.2	Original Structure of Banking System	22
1.1.3	Transformation into a two-tier system and liberal regulation	23
1.1.4	The new role of the central bank	24
1.1.5	Other financial market institutions	25
1.2	Corporate governance models and the financial sector	31
1.2.1	Dominating Ownership Structures and controlling shareholders	31
1.2.2	Who controlled controlling shareholders of enterprises?	32
1.2.3	Corporate governance models and issues	34
1.2.4	“Wild” restructuring of Czech ownership structures and the banks’ behaviour	37
1.3	The transformation financial vehicle for small entrepreneurs and start-ups	41
1.4	Major public policies affecting the banking sector - legislative conditions	42
1.5	Policies directed at improving the stock and flow position of banks, and the recapitalisation of banks.	44
1.5.1	First Consolidation Programme for the “old debts” in large banks (1991–1994)	44
1.5.2	Second Consolidation Programme for small and medium-size banks (1995–1996)	45
1.5.3	Stabilisation Programme for small banks (1996–2001)	48
1.5.4	The problems of savings and credit co-operatives	50
1.5.5	Konsolidační banka and pre-privatization clean-up	51
1.5.6	The cost of government and CNB policies aimed at consolidating the banks	53
1.5.7	Brief Regulatory Conclusions	54
2	Privatization and changes in the ownership structure of public banks	56
2.1	Privatization of major banking groups – the initial phase	56
2.2	Commercial bank failures and the owners’ behavioural formulas	58
2.3	Completing the privatization of major banking groups – sale abroad	59
3	Development of the banking sector in the second stage of transition	64
	Definition of the second stage – major features	64
3.1	Macroeconomic factors affecting the banking sector in the second stage of transition	65
	3.2 Changes in the financial sector’s market structure	69
3.2.1	Evolution of the banking sector as part of the financial sector	69
3.2.2	Evolution of a non-banking financial sector and securities markets	74

3.3	Public policies aimed at strengthening and improving the performance of the banking sector in compliance with the EU and international standards	80
3.3.1	Banking supervision in the Czech Republic	80
	“Capital Adequacy” provision reflecting credit and market risks	81
	Supervision on a consolidated basis	81
	a) Supervision on an unconsolidated basis	82
	b) Supervision of Banking Holdings	83
	c) Supervision of Financial Holding	84
3.3.2	The specific evolution of Czech Banking Supervision	86
	a) Off-site surveillance	86
	b) On-site surveillance	86
	On-site surveillance – credit risk	87
	On-site surveillance – internal control	90
	Central registry of credits – new tool to credit risk management	90
	On-site surveillance – market risk	91
3.4	Pace of growth of the banking sector and its financial standing	91
3.4.1	Conventional balance sheet analysis and instruments	91
3.4.2	The growing use of off-balance sheet instruments	97
3.4.3	Capital Adequacy and profitability indicators reached international standards	99
3.4.4	Development of financial products	100
3.4.5	Direct banking and cash-less payments improved financial services	101
4	Conclusions	103
	Problems of economic transition	103
	Consolidation of corporate governance	105
	Post-privatization phase in the banking sector: Towards Integration	106
	New trends in supervision and regulation	107
	The Future Challenges	110
	ANNEX Table A1: Macroeconomic data for Czech Republic	111
	ANNEX Table A2: Orientation overview of Czech Bank Failures	113

III

Does Lending Channel Matter? (Lessons from the Czech Republic)

by Roman Matoušek 115

1	Introduction	116
2	Is there a true credit crunch in the Czech Republic?	117
3	The credit market in the Czech Republic	120
3.1	The supply side of the credit market – the banking system	121
	3.1.1 The high level of banking intermediation in the Czech Republic	122
	3.1.2 Credit contraction in the Czech Republic: Who caused it?	125
	3.1.3 The troublemakers of Czech banking - Komerční banka and Česká spořitelna	127
3.2	The supply side – the regulator and his activity	129
	3.2.1 Capital deficiency and credit contraction	129
4	Conclusions	130

IV

The Development of Risk Management in the Czech Banking System by Stanislava Púpánová

133

Outline of basic risk types with emphasis on regulatory authority participation in their management 136

Development of management of individual risks by Czech banks 136

Credit risk in loan transactions 138

1 Credit risk 138

2 Loan commitment risk 143

3 Liquidity risk 143

4 Market Risks 144

5 Interest rate risk 145

6 Monetary risk 145

7 Stock and commodity risk 146

8 Other risks 146

Innovated capital adequacy and its other perspectives 146

V

Efficient Reallocation of Assets Through Bankruptcy Proceedings – The Cases of ZPS Zlín and ČKD Dopravní systémy by Zdenek Sid Blaha and Kryštof Mejstřík

151

1 Introduction 152

2 Issue of Financial Distress 153

2.1 Overview of Credit Risk 155

2.2 Drivers of Credit Risk 156

3 ZPS Zlín 157

3.1 Company History 157

3.2 Rapid Expansion 157

3.3 Financial Crisis 157

3.4 Financial Analysis – Early Warnings 158

3.5 Dealing with Difficulties 162

3.6 Bankruptcy 163

3.7 Conclusion (ZPS Zlín) 163

4 ČKD Dopravní systémy 165

4.1 Company History 166

4.2 Financial analysis – Results of Inpro's Corporate Governance 166

4.3 Activities of ČKD DS 168

4.4 Privatisation – the Second Attempt 169

4.5 Decisions on Further Measures 169

4.6 Bankruptcy 171

4.7 Conclusion (ČKD Dopravní systémy) 171

5 Conclusions 173

VI

Czech Banking: The Privatisation Challenge by Jiří Havel

176

1 Introduction 176

2 Brief description of initial conditions in Czech banking 177

3	Further development, new problems	180
4	Competition in Czech banking	182
5	Some technical problems of Czech banking	185
6	How privatisation started	187
7	Comparison of the three banks to be privatised	190
8	Privatization chronology	193
9	Conclusions	195

VII

	Privatization of Komerční banka by Vladimír Dlouhý	197
--	--	-----

1	Introduction	198
2	The development of the Czech banking sector after 1989	200
3	Komerční banka before 1997	202
4	Privatization of Komerční banka	204
4.1	Starting point	204
4.2	Essential resolutions of the Government	207
4.3	March 1998 - August 1999 period	209
4.4	September 1999 – December 2000	216
4.5	Final Stage of the Privatization Process	220
5	Conclusions	222

VIII

	Foreign Take-overs in the Banking Industry: the Case of Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic by Kateřina Kašová	225
--	---	-----

1	Introduction	226
2	Literature review	227
3	Methodology	231
4	Research design	232
5	Development of the banking sector in Hungary, Poland and the Czech Republic	233
5.1	The banking system under socialism	233
5.2	Reforming the banking sectors	234
5.3	Bad loans and bank conciliation	235
5.4	Bank Privatisation	238
6	Final Stage of the Privatization Process	239
6.1	Framework	239
6.1.1	Pre-privatization Phase	240
6.1.2	Privatisation	240
6.1.3	Soft Issues	242
6.1.4	Hard Issues	244
6.2	The Three groups of Banks	246
6.2.1	Group I	246
6.2.2	Group II	248
6.2.3	Group III	249
7	Conclusion	252
8	Appendix I	254
9	Appendix II	258

IX INTRODUCTION

Financing of Companies in the Czech Republic (Empirical Study)

by Vladimír Dvořák

1	Introduction – characteristics of analysed data and hypotheses	260
2	Comparison of surveyed companies and respondents	261
3	Response according to sectors	262
4	Applied analytical instruments	264
5	Overview of probabilities and identification of interactions	265
6	Conclusions	273
7	Tables no. 4–11	275
	Appendix	283
	Blank questionnaire	284

X

Bond Market Development in the Czech Republic compared with other

CEE countries by Anna Dvořáková

1	Bond market - general information	288
2	Bond market in the CR as a part of the capital market	289
3	Market size	290
3.1	Size of separate issues	291
3.2	Non-government (mainly corporate) issues	291
4	The role of bonds as instruments for financing the corporate sector	292
5	Issues on foreign markets	294
6	Market Structure	295
7	Eurobond issues	297
8	Sector structure	298
9	Liquidity of issues	300
10	Conclusions	300

XI

Bond Primary Issues in the Czech Republic – Final Analysis

by Markéta Mühlhoferová

1	Introduction	304
2	Basic preconditions for cultivation of primary issues	305
2.1	Main regulations	305
2.2	Informal rules	309
2.3	Participants' confidence in the capital market	310
3	Expected future developments, or Do we want to be on the periphery of the financial world?	312
3.1	Analysis of the current situation	312
3.2	Are we entering a “rosy future”?	315
4	Annex: Main ethical principles for capital market participants	316
5	List of abbreviations and references	316

XII
	Transformation and the Impact of Ethics – a Case Study from the Area of Collective Investment by Tomáš Sedláček	317
1	Causes	319
1.1	Introduction - Market, regulation and Morals	319
1.2	Informal Institutions	320
2	Resulting Business Environments	324
2.1	The Leak of Faith	325
3	Response: Establishment of UNIS ČR	326
3.1	Membership Structure and its development	328
3.2	Focus on Self-Regulation	332
4	Results	333
5	Analysis of UNIS CR Establishment	333
5.1	Membership Structures	334
5.2	Possible Problems with Self-regulation	335
5.3	Alternative scenarios	336
6	Theory of Constitution of Moral Order	337
7	Summary	339
XIII
	Asymmetric Timeliness of Earnings in the Emerging Market of the Czech Republic by Irena Jindrichovska and Daniel Long-Chang Kuo	341
1	Introduction	342
2	The Czech capital market and the Czech legislative background	342
3	Literature review	346
4	Methodology	348
5	Data sample	351
6	Empirical results	357
7	Conclusions	363
XIV
	Measuring the Quality of Institutions Supporting Financial Markets by Zdeněk Kudrna	365
1	Formal approach to measuring	367
1.1	Best practices and standard codes	369
2	Performance-based approach	372
2.1	Aggregate Governance Indicators (AGI)	373
2.2	Capture Index	374
2.3	Opacity Index	376
2.4	Corporate Governance Risk Index (CGRI)	378
3	Conclusions	381
XV
	References	383