

CONTENT

I.	General Information . . . . .	5
I.1	Overview of the First Ten Years of Economic Transition . . . . .	5
	The Czech Republic – An Economic Summary of 2001 . . . . .	11
	Year 2001 in the Czech Republic – Major Political and Economic Events . . . . .	12
I.2	History . . . . .	16
I.3	Geography . . . . .	18
I.4	Population . . . . .	19
	Aging of the Czech Population . . . . .	21
II.	Ten Years of Political Transformation . . . . .	23
II.1	Constitutional System . . . . .	23
	State Representatives in 2001 . . . . .	23
II.2	Electoral System . . . . .	24
	Major Political Parties in 2001 . . . . .	25
II.3	New Electoral History of the Czech Republic . . . . .	26
	Government Coalitions . . . . .	27
	Political Orientation . . . . .	30
II.4	Regional Administration . . . . .	32
	The New Regional System . . . . .	35
	Regional Councils . . . . .	36
III.	Macroeconomy . . . . .	37
III.1	Gross Domestic Product . . . . .	38
	Trust and Growth . . . . .	39
III.2	Inflation . . . . .	40
	Inflationary Bias in Mid to Late Transition Czech Republic . . . . .	41
III.3	State Budget . . . . .	44
	Mandatory Expenditures Squeeze . . . . .	44
	The Evolution and Prospects of Tax Evasion in the Czech Republic . . . . .	45
III.4	Investments . . . . .	48
III.5	Foreign Direct Investment and Privatization . . . . .	48
III.6	Balance of Payments . . . . .	52
III.7	Czech Capital Markets . . . . .	54
	Central European Stock Exchanges and Foreign Investment . . . . .	57
III.8	Exchange Rate . . . . .	59
III.9	Foreign Trade . . . . .	61
IV.	Microeconomy . . . . .	64
IV.1	Revived Privatization . . . . .	64
	Privatization in the Energy Sector: Electricity and Gas . . . . .	65

	Investment and Banks . . . . .	67
IV.2	Enterprise Restructuring: Bankruptcy . . . . .	69
	What Drives Bankruptcies in the Czech Republic . . . . .	71
	History of Bankruptcy Law . . . . .	72
IV.3	Energy Intensity . . . . .	75
IV.4	Law and Economics . . . . .	77
	Ownership and Performance in Voucher-privatized Firms. . . . .	79
	Rent Control and Housing . . . . .	80
IV.5	Health Economics. . . . .	83
	Administering Costs of the System . . . . .	84
IV.6	Bank Privatization Issues: Czech Banks Are Private . . . . .	86
	Costs of Privatization . . . . .	87
IV.7	Business Environment in the CEE . . . . .	89
	Corruption during Transition. . . . .	90
V.	Work and Pay . . . . .	93
V.1	Labor Market . . . . .	93
V.2	Age Structure and Trends. . . . .	94
V.3	Unemployment, Long-term Unemployment . . . . .	95
	Current and Future Demand for Labor. . . . .	97
V.4	Wages. . . . .	99
V.5	Educational Attainment/Skills. . . . .	100
	Financing Higher Education . . . . .	101
	School Reform . . . . .	103
	The Emerging Market for e-Learning . . . . .	104
V.6	Welfare . . . . .	106
VI.	Ecology . . . . .	107
VI.1	International Comparison. . . . .	107
	Temelín Case. . . . .	111
VI.2	Wastes and Pollution. . . . .	111
	Environmental Protection and Firms' Finance. . . . .	113
	The Benefits of Compliance with the Environmental Acquis for the Czech Republic and Candidate Countries. . . . .	114
VII.	The Czech Republic on its Way to the European Union . . . . .	116
VII.1	The Impact of EU Accession on the Speed of Convergence. . . . .	116
	The Czech Republic and Convergence Criteria . . . . .	118
	Can a Country with Such Low Growth Rates Ever Catch Up with the EU? . . . . .	121
VIII.	Comparative Statics . . . . .	124
IX.	Forecasts . . . . .	126
X.	List of CERGE-EI Working Papers . . . . .	127
XI.	List of CERGE-EI Discussion Papers . . . . .	129