Figures

2.1	Revised Disaster Management Cycle	58
3.1	Prices (in logarithms), 1264–1520: level and deviations from mean	83
3.2	Silver coin stock (in logarithms), 1264–1520: level and deviation from trend	83
3.3	Gold coin stock (in logarithms), 1344–1520: level and deviation from trend	84
3.4	GDP per head (in logarithms), 1270–1520: level and deviation from trend	85
3.5	Wage (in logarithms), 1264–1520: level and deviation from trend	86
3.6	Crop yields (index for barley, wheat and oats), 1270–1470: level and deviation from deterministic trend line	86
3.7	Prices (in logarithms), 1264–1520: level, fitted regression and deviation based on deterministic and stochastic trends (with one-year lag)	88
4.1	Replenishment rates of sheep (1279–1311) and oxen and cattle (1318–50) on English demesnes	130
6.1	Rainfall in the UK between May 1975 and August 1976	176
8.1	Schematic map of Bohemia in 1680: regions according to approximate plague mortality (%)	220
9.1	Map of Malta showing an arrowed line depicting the 1870s drainage reform in Valletta (centre) and Cottonera (right)	248
10.1	Decadal totals and crises of credit in the statute merchant certificates, 1290–1530	266

12.1	UK bank population, 1694–2008	312
13.1	English cloth exports, 1350–1544	326
13.2	Church of St Peter and St Paul, Lavenham	342
14.1	Salvadori firm's shipments of silk (1855–83, kg)	362
14.2	Salvadori firm's profits and losses (1856–83, gulden)	363
15.1	Real GDP, 1885–1905 (1996 millions of US dollars)	381
15.2	Real GDP per capita, 1885–1905 (1996 millions of US dollars)	381
15.3	Tariff revenue, 1890–1900 (current US dollars)	383
15.4	Estimated revenues from duties on imported items, by schedule (1897 US dollars)	385
15.5	Wool prices (US dollars per pound) in eastern US markets, 1890–1900	385

Tables

3.1	Estimates of the price regression, showing the effects of introducing additional explanatory variables	90
3.2	Estimation of a simultaneous equation model for price, output and wages, 1264–1520	93
3.3	Significant residual variation in the annual money price level, analysed according to the number of explanatory variables included in the regression	98
3.4	Significant residual variation in prices, output and wages in a simultaneous equation model, including a comparison between estimates for 1264–1520 that exclude crop yield variation and for 1270–1470 that include crop yield variation	102
3.5	Possible crises in the late medieval English economy	104
4.1	Ovine mortality rates during the 1279–80 scab outbreak in England	118
4.2	Bovine mortality rates during the 1319–20 rinderpest outbreak in England	119
4.3	Types and costs of medicaments used against scab on sheep farming demesnes of Winchester Cathedral Priory, 1279–80	124
6.1	Annual average market price for wheat, barley and oats, 1970/1 to 1976/7 (£ per tonne)	171
6.2	Agricultural yields, 1970–76 (tonnes per hectare)	177
6.3	Crop yields, 1970–76 (tonnes per hectare)	181
8.1	Estimates of plague mortality within the regions of Bohemia in 1679–80	222

8.2	Number of plague victims within the parishes of the vicarage of Poděbrady in 1680	227
8.3	Plague victims within the vicarage of Poděbrady in 1680, according to gender and age ratio	228
9.1	Morbidity and mortality figures for both 1865 and 1887 cholera epidemics in the towns and villages of Malta	243
12.1	Joint-stock banks: assets and liabilities, 1911–38	318
14.1	Reeling mills in Trentino (1850–99)	361
14.2	Silk throwing in Trentino (1870–1900)	368
