

---

Contents

---

Preface ix

ONE Music and Sound

Imagining the sound 1 . Romantic paradoxes: the absent melody 7 . Classical and Romantic pedal 13 . Conception and realization 27 . Tone color and structure 38

TWO Fragments

Renewal 41 . The Fragment as Romantic form 48 . Open and closed 51 . Words and music 58 . The emancipation of musical language 68 . Experimental endings and cyclical forms 78 . Ruins 92 . Disorders 95 . Quotations and memories 98 . Absence: the melody suppressed 112

THREE Mountains and Song Cycles

Horn calls 116 . Landscape and music 124 . Landscape and the double time scale 135 . Mountains as ruins 142 . Landscape and memory 150 . Music and memory 166 . Landscape and death: Schubert 174 . The unfinished workings of the past 204 . Song cycles without words 220

FOUR Formal Interlude

Mediants 237 . Four-bar phrases 257

FIVE Chopin: Counterpoint and the Narrative Forms

Poetic inspiration and craft 279 . Counterpoint and the single line 285 . Narrative form: the ballade 302 . Changes of mode 342 . Italian opera and J. S. Bach 344

SIX Chopin: Virtuosity Transformed

Keyboard exercises 361 . Virtuosity and decoration (salon music?) 383 . Morbid intensity 398

SEVEN Chopin: From the Miniature Genre to the Sublime Style

Folk music? 410 . Rubato 413 . Modal harmony? 416 . Mazurka as Romantic form 419 . The late mazurkas 439 . Freedom and tradition 452

EIGHT Liszt: On Creation as Performance

Disreputable greatness 472 . Die Lorelei: the distraction of influence 474 . The Sonata: the distraction of respectability 479 . The invention of Romantic piano sound: the Etudes 491 . Conception and realization 506 . The masks of Liszt 511 . Recomposing: Sonnet no. 104 517 . Self-Portrait as Don Juan 528

NINE Berlioz: Liberation from the Central European Tradition

Blind idolaters and perfidious critics 542 . Tradition and eccentricity: the idée fixe 546 . Chord color and counterpoint 550 . Long-range harmony and contrapuntal rhythm: the "Scène d'amour" 556

TEN Mendelssohn and the Invention of Religious Kitsch

Mastering Beethoven 569 . Transforming Classicism 582 . Classical form and modern sensibility 586 . Religion in the concert hall 590

ELEVEN Romantic Opera: Politics, Trash, and High Art

Politics and melodrama 599 . Popular art 602 . Bellini 608 . Meyerbeer 639

TWELVE Schumann: Triumph and Failure of the Romantic Ideal

The irrational 646 . The inspiration of Beethoven and Clara Wieck 658 . The inspiration of E. T. A. Hoffmann 669 . Out of phase 683 . Lyric intensity 689 . Failure and triumph 699

Index of Names and Works 711