

CONTENTS

List of Cases	vii
List of Authorsxi

Introduction

Eva BREMS, Pieter CANNOOT and Toon MOONEN	1
1. Gender Variation as a Human Rights Issue	1
2. Trans Rights in the Age of Gender Self-Determination	3
3. Book Overview	7

The Limits to Gender Self-Determination in a Stereotyped Legal System: Lessons from the Belgian Gender Recognition Act

Pieter CANNOOT	11
1. The Legal Recognition of Gender Identity	13
2. Analysis of the Belgian Sex/Gender Registration Framework	22
3. Conclusion	52

From Assigning Sex to Affirming Gender: Remarks on an Ongoing Evolution Affecting Gender Identification

Benjamin MORON-PUECH	55
1. Introduction	55
2. The Origin of Trans Difficulties Regarding Gender Identification	58
3. The Ongoing Shift from Sex Assignment to Gender Affirmation	64
4. Final Questions	68

The Insufficiency of Gender Recognition Acts: The Example of Schooldays in Norway

Anniken SØRLIE	73
1. Introduction	73
2. Legal Gender Recognition for Children: The European Context	75
3. Being Transgender at School	80
4. A Look Forward	90

Developments in German Civil Status Law on the Recognition of Intersex and Non-Binary Persons: Subversion Subverted
Jens T. THEILEN	95
1. Introduction	95
2. Developments in German Civil Status Law	97
3. Shifting Rationales for Legal Gender Recognition	108
4. Outlook	117
Framing Equality: Debating Protected Grounds in the Field of Trans and Non-Binary Rights
Peter DUNNE	121
1. Introduction	121
2. Terminology	123
3. Background and Context	124
4. Disability	128
5. Sex	134
6. Trans-Specific Grounds	138
7. Conclusion	143
‘True Sex’: The Law and Confirmation of One’s Sex
Petr AGHA	145
1. Introduction	145
2. Trans Identities in the Czech Context	147
3. Trans Identities from the Perspectives of Trans People	157
4. Identity Categories	162
5. Conclusion	166
Index	171