

2.2.3.2.3.	Public Law Rights and Obligations	21
2.2.3.2.3.1.	Obligation to Pay Tax.	22
2.2.3.2.3.2.	Political Rights and Obligations	22
2.2.3.2.3.3.	Entry, Stay and Removal of Aliens and Right to Passport	23
2.2.3.2.3.4.	Employment in the Public Sector	24
2.2.3.2.3.5.	Other Public Law Rights and Obligations.	26
2.2.3.2.4.	Rights Connected to Criminal Proceedings and Imprisonment	27
2.3.	“Dispute” Concerning Civil Rights and Obligations	28
2.4.	“Determination” of Civil Rights and Obligations	30
2.5.	Administrative Decisions	32
2.5.1.	Policy Decisions	33
2.5.2.	Assessment of the Proportionality of Administrative Decisions	34
2.6.	Which Stages of Proceedings Fall within the Scope of “Civil Rights and Obligations”?	34
2.6.1.	Applicability from the Start of Judicial Proceedings	34
2.6.2.	Accessory Proceedings and Interim Decisions	35
2.6.3.	Ordinary and Extraordinary Appeal Proceedings.	36
2.6.4.	Execution.	38
2.6.5.	Interim Measures	40
Chapter 3. Criminal Charge		43
3.1.	Autonomous Interpretation	43
3.2.	Three Criteria of an Offence (The Engel Criteria)	43
3.2.1.	Classification in Domestic Law	44
3.2.2.	Nature and Purpose of the Act.	44
3.2.2.1.	Disciplinary Proceedings.	45
3.2.2.2.	Misdemeanours and Petty Offences.	49
3.2.2.3.	Applicability to the Wider Public	50
3.2.3.	Nature and Severity of the Punishment	51
3.3.	Autonomous Meaning of a Charge	52
3.4.	Which Stages of Procedure Fall within the Scope of Criminal Charge?	53
3.4.1.	Beginning and End of a Criminal Charge	53
3.4.2.	To What is a Criminal Charge not Applicable?	54

Chapter 4. Rights Guaranteed by Article 6 §1	59
4.1. Access to a Court	60
4.1.1. Right of Effective Access	64
4.1.1.1. Legal Aid	64
4.1.1.2. Court Fees	65
4.1.1.3. Discontinuation of the Proceedings	67
4.1.1.4. Uncertainty of the Content or Interpretation of Law... ..	67
4.1.2. Restrictions Upon the Right of Access	68
4.1.2.1. Time Limits, Statute of Limitations and Errors of Pleading	70
4.1.2.2. Reasons Related to an Applicant's Personal Circumstances and the Requirement of Flexibility	73
4.1.2.3. Limitations on the Right of Action	74
4.1.2.4. Retroactive Laws	74
4.1.2.5. Annulment and Non-Enforcement of Final Judgments	75
4.1.2.6. Immunities, Privileges and Territorial Competence ...	75
4.1.2.7. Limitations Imposed by International Treaties or Owing to International Tribunal Competences.....	80
4.1.2.8. Restrictions on Access to a Court in Criminal Matters and Convictions in Absentia	81
4.1.3. Waiver of the Right of Access	84
4.1.4. Relationship with Article 13	85
4.2. Right to a Fair Trial	86
4.2.1. Basic Principles	86
4.2.2. Hearing in One's Presence	87
4.2.2.1. Waiver of the Right to be Present	89
4.2.2.2. Default Judgments	90
4.2.2.3. Applicant's Disruptive Behaviour in the Courtroom or Partial Absence	92
4.2.2.4. Presence During an Appeal	93
4.2.3. Effective Participation and Legal Safeguards Concerning Young Offenders	94
4.2.4. Equality of Arms	97
4.2.5. Adversarial Proceedings	100
4.2.6. Rules on Evidence	104
4.2.6.1. Basic Principles Concerning Evidence	104
4.2.6.2. Admissibility of Evidence	106
4.2.6.2.1. Co-Defendant's Statement as Evidence and Plea-Bargaining	108
4.2.6.2.2. Indirect Evidence or Hearsay Witnesses ...	110
4.2.6.2.3. Illegally Obtained Evidence	112

4.2.6.2.4.	Evidence Obtained by Undercover Operations or by Other Covert Methods of Investigation	114
4.2.6.2.5.	Forced Confessions and Other Evidence Obtained by Force.	121
4.2.6.3.	Withholding of Evidence	124
4.2.6.4.	Refusal to Admit Evidence	125
4.2.6.5.	Assessment of Evidence and Interpretation and Application of Domestic Law	126
4.2.7.	Presumption of Innocence in Non-Criminal Matters.	128
4.2.7.1.	Confiscation Proceedings	128
4.2.7.2.	Subsequent Civil or Administrative Law Proceedings	130
4.2.8.	Presumption of Innocence in Separate Prosecutions	134
4.2.9.	Principle of Immediacy.	134
4.2.10.	Freedom from Self-Incrimination and Right to Remain Silent	135
4.2.10.1.	Nature of Freedom from Self-Incrimination.	136
4.2.10.2.	Procedure Violating the Freedom from Self-Incrimination.	138
4.2.10.2.1.	Documents and Samples Obtained by Coercive Measures	139
4.2.10.2.2.	Situations Unconnected to Criminal Proceedings	139
4.2.10.2.3.	Physical Coercion, Torture and Inhuman Treatment.	140
4.2.10.2.3.1.	For Obtaining a Confession.	140
4.2.10.2.3.2.	Real Evidence	142
4.2.10.2.4.	Indirect Situations.	144
4.2.10.3.	Two Typical Situations Concerning Freedom from Self-Incrimination.	144
4.2.10.3.1.	Pending and Anticipated Trials	145
4.2.10.3.2.	Subsequent Criminal Charges.	146
4.2.10.3.3.	Situations Concerning Speeding Controls	148
4.2.10.4.	Freedom from Self-Incrimination and Legal Safeguards of a Trial	149
4.2.10.5.	Freedom from Self-Incrimination and its Effect on Other Defendants	150
4.2.11.	Plea Bargaining.	151
4.2.12.	Legal Representation in Non-Criminal Cases	153
4.2.13.	Retroactive Legislation	153

4.2.14.	Adequate Reasoning	155
4.2.15.	Requests for a Preliminary Ruling	159
4.2.16.	Principle of Legal Certainty	161
4.2.16.1.	Supervisory Review Proceedings	161
4.2.16.2.	Coherency of Case-Law	163
4.2.17.	Prejudicial Publicity	164
4.3.	Right to a Public Hearing and Public Announcement of Judgment.	165
4.3.1.	Public Hearing	165
4.3.1.1.	Public Hearing Requirement	166
4.3.1.2.	Exceptions to a Public Hearing	167
4.3.1.2.1.	Interests of Juveniles	169
4.3.1.2.2.	Protection of Private Life	169
4.3.1.2.3.	Public Order and Security Concerns	170
4.3.1.2.4.	National Security	171
4.3.2.	Oral Hearing	172
4.3.2.1.	Waiver of an Oral Hearing	172
4.3.2.2.	Development of the Court's Case-Law	173
4.3.2.3.	Civil and Administrative Law Cases	174
4.3.2.4.	Criminal Matters	175
4.3.2.4.1.	Matters Concerning the Core Areas of Criminal Law	175
4.3.2.4.2.	Other Criminal Matters	176
4.3.2.5.	Oral Hearing at the Appeal Stage	177
4.3.2.5.1.	Need to Organise an Oral Hearing on Appeal	178
4.3.2.5.2.	Judgment Changed to the Accused's Detriment	179
4.3.2.5.3.	Participation by Video Conference	181
4.3.3.	Requirement for Public Pronouncement of a Judgment	182
4.3.3.1.	How Much of a Judgment Must be Pronounced?	183
4.3.3.2.	Manner of Pronouncing	184
4.3.3.3.	Exception in Cases Involving Child Custody and Contact Rights	184
4.3.3.4.	Exceptions in Cases Involving Security Reasons	185
4.3.3.5.	Waiver of the Right	185
4.4.	Reasonable Length of the Proceedings	185
4.4.1.	Means to Seek Redress for Length of Proceedings	186
4.4.1.1.	Acceleration of the Proceedings	187
4.4.1.2.	Compensation for Lengthy Proceedings	187
4.4.1.3.	Mitigation of Sentence	188
4.4.2.	Victim Status and Exhaustion of Domestic Remedies	188
4.4.3.	Period to be Considered	189
4.4.4.	Complexity of the Matter	192

4.4.5.	Applicant's Conduct	193
4.4.6.	Conduct of the Authorities	195
4.4.7.	Importance of the Matter to the Applicant	198
4.4.8.	Reasonableness of the Length of the Proceedings	199
4.5.	Independent and Impartial Tribunal Established by Law	199
4.5.1.	Definition of a Tribunal	200
4.5.2.	Independent Tribunal	202
4.5.2.1.	Manner of Appointment and Duration of Term	202
4.5.2.2.	Guarantees against Outside Pressure (Dismissal of a Judge).	205
4.5.2.3.	Appearance of Independence	207
4.5.3.	Impartial Tribunal	208
4.5.3.1.	Subjective Test	210
4.5.3.2.	Objective Test	210
4.5.3.3.	Judges Acting in Different Roles	213
4.5.3.4.	Judges Participating at More than One Stage or in Parallel	216
4.5.3.5.	Judge's Family Ties and Personal Relationships	218
4.5.3.6.	Special Courts	220
4.5.3.7.	Statements in Public	221
4.5.3.8.	Judges with their Own Interest in Matters	223
4.5.4.	Waiver of the Right to an Independent and Impartial Tribunal	224
4.5.5.	Issue Corrected on Appeal	225
4.5.6.	Established by Law	226
 Chapter 5. Presumption of Innocence in Article 6 §2		229
5.1.	Basic Principles on Presumption of Innocence	229
5.2.	Dimensions of Presumption of Innocence	230
5.2.1.	Personal Dimension	230
5.2.2.	Material Dimension	231
5.2.3.	Duration of Presumption of Innocence	232
5.3.	Content of Presumption of Innocence	233
5.3.1.	Presumption of Innocence and Burden of Proof by the Prosecution	233
5.3.2.	Presumption of Innocence, Legal Presumptions and Different Requirements for Burden of Proof	236
5.3.3.	Presumption of Innocence and Admission and Adequacy of Evidence	238
5.3.4.	Presumption of Innocence and Organisation of a Trial	239
5.4.	Statements Given in Pending Cases	240
5.4.1.	Statements Given at Different Stages of the Proceedings	240

5.4.2. Position of the Person Giving a Statement 242
 5.4.2.1. Judges, Prosecutors and Police 242
 5.4.2.2. Other State Authorities 244
 5.4.2.3. Adverse Press Campaigns 245
 5.4.3. Extending the Presumption to Other Criminal Proceedings... 246
 5.4.4. Extending the Presumption to Non-Criminal Proceedings... 247
 5.5. Correction of a Violation 252
 5.6. Presumption of Innocence and Freedom from Self-Incrimination 253

Chapter 6. Article 6 §3 and Special Guarantees in

Criminal Proceedings..... 257

6.1. Basic Principles of Article 6 §3 257
 6.2. Right to be Informed of Accusations 259
 6.2.1. Information about the Nature and Causes of Accusations..... 260
 6.2.1.1. Detailed Information 260
 6.2.1.2. Modified Charges 261
 6.2.1.3. Alternative Charges 263
 6.2.1.4. Manner of Service..... 264
 6.2.2. Prompt Information..... 265
 6.2.3. Language of the Charges..... 265
 6.3. Right to Adequate Time and Facilities for Preparing a Defence..... 266
 6.3.1. Content of the Right 266
 6.3.2. Adequate Time for Preparing a Defence..... 267
 6.3.3. Adequate Facilities for Preparing a Defence 269
 6.3.3.1. Access to a Lawyer 269
 6.3.3.2. Right to Disclosure of Pretrial Investigation
 Material 271
 6.3.3.3. Information about Material Submitted by
 Other Parties 277
 6.3.3.4. Information about Material Obtained Ex Officio..... 278
 6.4. Right to Defend Oneself in Person or Through Legal Assistance..... 278
 6.4.1. Right to a Lawyer 279
 6.4.1.1. Pretrial Investigation and the Right to a Lawyer 280
 6.4.1.1.1. From the Beginning of a Pretrial
 Investigation 280
 6.4.1.1.2. Young Suspects 282
 6.4.1.1.3. Use of Pretrial Statements as Evidence and Right to a Lawyer 283
 6.4.1.1.4. Non-Interrogation Situations 283
 6.4.1.1.5. Informing a Suspect of his Rights and
 Calling a Lawyer 284

6.4.1.2.	Restrictions on the Right to Legal Assistance from a Lawyer	285
6.4.1.2.1.	Limiting the Freedom of Choice of the Accused	286
6.4.1.2.2.	Denial of Any Legal Assistance in the Pretrial Investigation Phase	288
6.4.1.3.	Waiver of the Right to a Lawyer	293
6.4.2.	Defence in Person	294
6.4.3.	Free Legal Aid.	297
6.4.4.	Right to Defend Oneself Through Legal Assistance	299
6.4.5.	Practical and Effective Legal Assistance	301
6.4.5.1.	The State's Responsibility for Legal Assistants' Mistakes	301
6.4.5.2.	Other Requirements of Effectiveness	303
6.5.	Right to Call and Cross-Examine Witnesses	305
6.5.1.	Assessing Overall Fairness of the Proceedings	305
6.5.2.	Concept of a Witness.	306
6.5.3.	Hearing Witnesses in the Presence of an Accused	307
6.5.4.	Waiving the Right to Cross-Examine Witnesses	310
6.5.5.	Cross-Examination and Pretrial Investigation Statements.	311
6.5.5.1.	The Three-Step Test	312
6.5.5.2.	Absence, Disappearance, Illness or Death of a Witness, or Absence Owing to Fear	315
6.5.5.2.1.	Measures Taken to Summons a Witness to a Court.	315
6.5.5.2.2.	Valid Excuse for a Witness's Absence and Sufficient Safeguards of the Defence	317
6.5.5.2.2.1.	Dead Witness	317
6.5.5.2.2.2.	Witnesses in Fear	319
6.5.5.2.2.3.	Witnesses Who have Fallen Ill	321
6.5.5.2.2.4.	Witnesses Who are Abroad and Unreachable	322
6.5.5.2.2.5.	Absent Witness Who has been Cross-Examined During Pretrial Investigation	325
6.5.5.2.2.6.	Hearing of (Silent) Co-Defendants	325
6.5.5.2.2.7.	Spouse's Refusal to Testify	326
6.5.5.2.2.8.	Changed Composition of the Court and Related Absences	328

6.5.5.3.	Hearing Witnesses in Sexual Crime Cases	329
6.5.5.3.1.	Sexual Abuse of a Child	329
6.5.5.3.2.	Sexual Abuse of an Adult	332
6.5.5.4.	Anonymous Witnesses	332
6.5.5.4.1.	Valid Reasons for Using Anonymous Witnesses	334
6.5.5.4.2.	Significance of Anonymous Witnesses . . .	335
6.5.6.	Right to Call and Hear Witnesses	339
6.5.6.1.	Restrictions on Hearing Witnesses	340
6.5.6.1.1.	General Principles	340
6.5.6.1.2.	Expert Witnesses	343
6.5.6.2.	A Witness's Refusal to Testify	344
6.5.6.3.	Right to Present One's Own Evidence	345
6.6.	Right to a Free Interpreter	345
6.6.1.	Extent of the Right	346
6.6.2.	Service for Free	349
	Bibliography	351
	Index	361