

Contents

I. Concerning the Global Problems of the Relationship between Man and Nature
Jaroslav Pecen
Science and the Origin of Global problems .....	7
Jiří Dvořák
Man and Biosphere: A Strategy of Coevolution .....	12
Jiří Zeman
The Relation of Man and the Universe from the Viewpoint of Dialektical Materialism .....	20
Josef Šmajš
Two Stages of the Jumanization of Nature .....	28
II. Philosophical-theoretical Points of Departure of the Marxist-Leninist Concept of Man
Rudolf Steindl
The Marxist Conception of Man .....	35
Ladislav Holata
The Dialectics of the Natural and the Social in Marxist Philosophy .....	42
František Novosad
Social-historical Dimensions of Consciousness and Cognition .....	49
Ján Bodnár
Man as the Object of Philosophical Research .....	54
III. Concerning the Problems of man in German Classical Philosophy and in the Works of Karl Marx
Milan Sobotka
Hegel's Critique of Kant's Moral Philosophy .....	63
Vladimír Čechák
Existence and Praktice in Hegel's Philosophy .....	71
Ivan Hodovský
The Idea of Worldview in the Writings of Karl Marx .....	77
IV. Concerning the Questions of the Methodology of Social sciences
Jindřich Zelený
Dialectization: Remarks on Some Controversial Aspects .....	83
Jiřina Stachová
Is the Precision of a Computer an Ideal of the Precision of Human Thinking? .....	87

Ivana Holzbachová
On the Usage of the Term "Paradigm" in the Social Sciences .....	94
Pavel Baran
Subjektivism and Objektivism in the Nature of Values in Confrontation with H. Rickerts Philosophy of Value .....	102
Jiří Cetl
On the Antropological Interpretation of the Term Experience .....	111
V. Rationality and Humanity
Jakub Netopilík
Relation between Rationalism and Humanism .....	117
Rudolf Šíma
The Man and the Mankind in their Struggle for Themselves .....	131
Vlastimil Brychnáč
Freedom and the Problem of Self-Realization of Man .....	142
Barbora Hlavová
Presumpositions of the Relationship of the Scientific-technological Phenomenon and Morale .....	147
Milan Štefanko
The Man in the Horizon of Noetic Optimism .....	152
Dagmar Smreková
The Conception of Man in the so Called New Philosophy .....	156