

Contents

Acknowledgments XI

Introduction 1

1 The Concern 1

2 Book Structure 3

1 Fundamental Aspects of Regulatory Power in International Sport 6

1 The Structure of International Sports Governance 6

1.1 Sport's Pyramid(s) 6

1.2 Functions of International Federations 15

1.3 Contractual Rules/Regulations of Sports Governing Bodies 16

2 The Nature of Regulatory Power in International Sport 19

2.1 The Conventional Contract-Based Conception 19

2.2 The Limited Extent of Express Contracts 23

2.3 The Categorical (Not Contractual) Claim to Regulatory Authority 25

2.4 The Structure of Sport and Monopoly Power 28

2.5 The Consistency Imperative of International Sport 31

2.6 The Contractual Characterisation and Sports Law 33

3 The Democratic Legitimacy Deficit in International Sport 35

3.1 The Democratic Deficit in International Federations 35

4 The Legitimation of Regulatory Power in International Sport 43

4.1 Power and Authority 44

4.2 The Requirement for Legitimacy 46

2 The Contractual Authority of Sports Governing Bodies – The Real and the Fictional 50

1 Problems in the Contractual Characterisation 50

2 The Contractual Basis of Regulatory Authority – Conceptual Issues 51

2.1 The Formal Requirements of a Contract and the Contractual Premise 51

2.2 Quasi-Legislative Rules 54

2.3 The Exercise of Regulatory Power and Transactions 55

2.4 The Incompatibility of an Overriding Regulatory Power with Contract-Based Power 58

2.5 Certainty and Contractual Intention in Contracts Incorporating Variable Sports Governing Bodies' Rules 63

- 3 Indirect 'Contractual' Devices 69
 - 3.1 The Incorporation of Regulatory Power by Reference 69
 - 3.2 Chains of Contracts in Sport 70
- 4 Implied Contracts in Sport 82
- 5 The Vice of the Contractual Characterisation 84

- 3 The De Facto Power of Sports Governing Bodies 87
 - 1 Sport's Practically and Legally Effective, Pervasive De Facto Power 87
 - 2 The Foundations of the De Facto Power of Sports Governing Bodies 88
 - 2.1 Monopoly Power of Sports Governing Bodies 88
 - 2.2 Self-Enforcing Sanctions 100
 - 2.3 De Facto Power and the Contractual Characterisation 102

- 4 The Extent and Function of Consent in the De Facto Power of Sports Governing Bodies 103
 - 1 Consent and De Facto Power in Sport 103
 - 1.1 The Irrelevance of Consent to De Facto Power 103
 - 2 De Facto Power and Contracts 104
 - 2.1 The Coincidence of Contractual and De Facto Powers 104
 - 2.2 Forced Consent 105
 - 2.3 The Effect of Judicial Support of De Facto Power in the Form of Forced Consent 107
 - 3 De Facto Power and Consent 108
 - 3.1 The Role of Participant Knowledge of Sports Governing Bodies' Rules 109
 - 3.2 Participation as Agreement 113
 - 3.3 Conduct Bringing Individuals within the Scope of Regulatory Authority 114
 - 3.4 De Facto Power, Consent and Estoppel 115

- 5 The De Facto Jurisdiction of the Court of Arbitration for Sport 118
 - 1 De Facto Power and Consent to Sports Arbitration 118
 - 2 The 'Myth' of Consent in Sports Arbitration 120
 - 2.1 Arbitration in Sports Governing Bodies' Rules 123
 - 2.2 Practical Considerations Supporting Sports Arbitration 124
 - 2.3 CAS's Mandatory Jurisdiction 125
 - 3 The Inadequate Justification of Non-Consensual Arbitration 137
 - 3.1 The Justifications of Non-Consensual Arbitration in Sport 137
 - 3.2 The Selective Application of the Functional Justifications 137
 - 3.3 The Objective of an Effective Dispute Settlement Regime 138
 - 3.4 The Fairness of the Process 140

3.5	Legitimacy of Arbitration and the Problem of the Absence of Agreement	143
3.6	The Rule of the Rules of International Sport Governing Bodies	145
3.7	Pro-Arbitration Policy	151
4	The Handmaidens of Sport's International Federations	153
6	Individual Liberty and De Facto Power	155
1	Individual Liberty and De Facto Regulatory Power	155
1.1	Assumption of Validity of De Facto Power	156
2	Implications of De Facto Power Not Being the Exercise of Individual Liberty	169
7	Legitimacy and the Justification of the Regulatory Power of International Sports Governing Bodies	170
1	The Necessity of Legitimacy	170
2	Democratic Legitimation of the Governance Regime of International Sport	172
2.1	Legitimacy and Representative Democracy	172
2.2	The Pragmatics of Representative Democracy in International Sport	176
2.3	Legislative Support of Democratic Regulatory Structures in Sport	180
2.4	Democracy as Good Governance	184
3	Democratic Legitimacy and International Sports Arbitration	189
3.1	De Facto Power and the Role of CAS	191
3.2	Democratic Legitimation of Arbitration without Consent	194
8	Conferring Legality on the Regulation of International Sport – the Need for an International Treaty	196
1	The Limited Benefits of Democratic Legitimacy	196
2	An International Treaty	199
3	The Contents of a Convention on the Governance of International Sport	200
3.1	World Sports Regulatory Authority	201
3.2	Giving Effect to the Consistency Imperative	205
4	The Impetus for Reform	212
4.1	Conditional Governmental Support	214
5	Conclusion	215
	Bibliography	217
	Table of Cases	246
	Index	273