

Contents

List of Figures	viii
Foreword by Eliana Gil	xi
Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xiv
1 Titration in Trauma Work: Using the Play Therapist's Palette	1
2 The Neurobiology of Trauma and Play: Understanding the Playroom as a Neurochemical Boxing Ring	22
3 Need Meeting to Enhance Regulation: Feeding, Touch, and Sensory Integration	43
4 Bigness, Smallness, and Containment: The Use of Space and Presence in Play Therapy	71
5 Metaphor and Medium	101
6 Playing the Affective Accordion: Titration in Aspects of Emotional Literacy	119
7 The Nature of Play	144
8 Humor, Novelty, and Shared Delight	179
9 Holding the Hard Story: Narrative Nuance	196
Index	233