

List of Contents

Foreword	7
1. Sociological Framework of Studying Violence in Intimate Partnership	9
Defining "family violence"	10
Measuring family violence	11
1.1 Theoretical models of researching family violence	13
1.2 Arising violence in the family: risk and protective factors	15
Social and demographic risk factors	17
Situational and environmental factors	17
2. Domestic Violence in the Czech Republic: Research and Legislation	20
2.1 First research on domestic violence in the czech republic	20
Attitudes towards violence between partners	21
Partnership violence and men as victims	22
2.2 Czech legislation on domestic violence	24
Instruments of criminal law for protection of victims of domestic violence	26
Institutes of civil law available for the protection of victims of domestic violence	29
Protection of children as witnesses of domestic violence	30
3. International Violence Against Women Survey in the Czech Republic: Project and Main Findings	33
3.1 About the IVAWS project	33
Project rationale	34
3.2 IVAWS methodology in the Czech Republic	36
Respondent socio-demographic characteristics	37
3.3 Incidence and forms of violence	39

4. Violence Within and Outside Partner Relationship	48
4.1 Profile of violent incident within and outside partner relationship	48
Physical injury, exposure life to danger	54
Subjective perception of incident	56
4.2 Co-operation with the police	61
5. Specific Character of Violence in Intimate Partnerships	70
5.1 Rise of violence in connection with the characteristics of victims	70
Age	70
Marital status	73
Education, socio-economic status, income	75
Nationality	83
Size of residence	83
Alcohol	84
Victims of violence versus violent experience during childhood	86
5.2 Rise of violence in connection with the characteristics of partner	92
5.3 Deeper view on rise of violence in intimate partnership
based on IVAWS: regression analysis	99
Methodology	99
Results	102
6. Psychological Abuse in Intimate Violence	107
6.1 Forms of Psychological Abuse by the Previous Partner	111
6.2 Social Background of Psychological Abuse	113
Methodological implications	115
6.3 Violence as an interaction between partners	117
7. Help sources for intimate partner violence victims: Focus on the police and specialized agencies	121
7.1 Possible help sources	121
The police	125
NGOs assisting victims of domestic violence	128
7.2 IVAWS results	129
Satisfaction with police work	130
Contacting the police and specialized NGOs	133
8. Czech State of Arts in the Comparative Perspective	141
8.1 Prevalence of the victimization	142
8.2 Predictors of intimate violence	146
8.3 Summary: The links between the past and the future	149
Literature	152