

Contents

Foreword	ix
Bertrand Westphal
Acknowledgments	xvii
Introduction: On Geocriticism	1
Robert T. Tally Jr.
Part I Geocriticism in Theory and Practice
1 Geocriticism, Geopoetics, Geophilosophy, and Beyond	13
Eric Prieto
2 The Presencing of Place in Literature: Toward an Embodied Topopoetic Mode of Reading	29
Sten Pultz Moslund
Part II Places, Spaces, and Texts
3 Redrawing the Map: An Interdisciplinary Geocritical Approach to Australian Cultural Narratives	47
Peta Mitchell and Jane Stadler
4 Textual Forests: The Representation of Landscape in Latin American Narratives	63
Maria Mercedes Ortiz Rodriguez
5 Land of Racial Confluence and Spatial Accessibility: Claude McKay's Sense of Mediterranean Place	75
Michael K. Walonen
6 The Shores of Aphrodite's Island: Cyprus and European Travel Memory, 1600–1700	91
Antoine Eche
7 Jefferson's Ecologies of Exception: Geography, Race, and American Empire in the Age of Globalization	107
Christine M. Battista

Part III Transgressions, Movements, and Border Crossings

- 8 Geopolitics, Landscape, and Guilt in Nineteenth-Century Colonial Literature 123
Rebecca Weaver-Hightower
- 9 “Amid all the maze, uproar, and novelty”: The Limits of Other-Space in Sister Carrie 139
Rachel Collins
- 10 Furrowing the Soil with His Pen: Derek Walcott’s Topography of the English Countryside 161
Joanna Johnson
- 11 Global Positioning from Spain: Mapping Identity in African American Narratives of Travel 177
Maria C. Ramos
- 12 The Space of Transgression: A Geocritical Study of Albert Camus’s “The Adulterous Wife” 195
Brigitte Le Juez
- 13 Affective Mapping in Lyric Poetry 209
Heather Yeung
- Contributors 223
- Index 227