

Articles

Matěj Spurný

To Know and to Build / Continuities of urban expertise illustrated by the case of Bratislava in the “short” twentieth century 313

---

Radek Buben – Martin Štefek

Conceptual Labyrinths / For as many concepts of totalitarianism as you know, so many times are you a revisionist? 353

---

Karel Černý

Immanuel Wallerstein: History of Capitalism, Global Inequality and World Revolution / Review essay on the occasion of the death of the prominent historical sociologist 390

---

Blanka Nyklová – Hana Daňková

Inventor and Innovator / Small socialist business within the limits of normalization plans 433

---

Materials

Kateřina Piorecká

Prominent, Permitted, Undesirable, Prohibited... / Lists and files of Czech writers as a tool of transforming the structure of literature during the Protectorate 469

---

Discussion

Jiří Hoppe

Experience and Think about 1968 while Watching TV / “Programme 68” website project takes research on the Prague Spring to a higher level 502

---

Milada Polišenská Trilogy on Czechoslovaks in the Gulag camps	513
Adam Šumichrast Transformation of Czech Labour from Nazism to Socialism	526
Michaela Lenčářová Major Shift in Research into Slovak State History	532
Tomáš Hubálek Well-made Czech Monograph on the Resistance in Occupied Europe	542
Jakub Střelec Collective Violence in the Czech Lands as a Way of Governance	547
Petr Roubal Novotný's Museumsberg and a Rather "Wild" Macura	555
Marta Edith Holečková On Underground Over and Over Again and Never Otherwise	561
Klára Trávníčková Post-Soviet Wars over the Great Patriotic War	567
Hana Bortlová-Vondráková Spanish Communist Exile behind the Iron Curtain	573
Annotations	587