

Contents

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgements   | ix  |
| PROLOGUE   |     |
| Mozambique's economic miracleHow to escape poverty                                  | 1   |
| 1 The Lexus and the olive tree revisitedMyths and facts about globalization         | 19  |
| 2 The double life of Daniel DefoeHow did the rich countries become rich?            | 40  |
| 3 My six-year-old son should get a jobIs free trade always the answer?              | 65  |
| 4 The Finn and the elephantShould we regulate foreign investment?                   | 84  |
| 5 Man exploits manPrivate enterprise good, public enterprise bad?                   | 103 |
| 6 Windows 98 in 1997Is it wrong to 'borrow' ideas?                                  | 122 |
| 7 Mission impossible?Can financial prudence go too far?                             | 145 |
| 8 Zaire vs IndonesiaShould we turn our backs on corrupt and undemocratic countries? | 160 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 9 Lazy Japanese and thieving Germans                        | 182 |
| Are some cultures incapable of economic development? |     |

EPILOGUE

|                               |     |
|-------------------------------|-----|
| São Paulo, October 2037       | 203 |
| Can things get better? |     |
| Notes                         | 223 |
| Index                         | 267 |