

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction: Ubiquitous Digital Networks, Identity, and the Self	ix
1. Understanding Identity Online: Social Networking	1
1. Approaching Identity	4
2. Web 1.0 and Online Fluidity	8
3. Profiles and Performativity	10
4. Identity, Friendship, and the Network	16
5. Identity, Multiplicities, and Undoing	21
2. Performativity, Communication, and Selfhood	29
1. Identity in a Media-Saturated Contemporary World	32
2. Accessing Identity Information: Available and Unavailable Discourses	51
3. Mediating the Self in a Circular World – Citationality and Reading Formations	62
4. Conclusions: Media, Normativity, and Pedagogy	66
3. Interactivity, Digital Media, and the Text	71
1. Digital Media Environments and Identity Today	74
2. The Nature of Interactivity	78
3. Interactivity and the Author–Text–Audience Relationship – Synergy and Struggle	83
4. Push and Pull: Audience Interactivity in History	88
5. Reality TV, Mixed Mediums, and Open/Closed Textualities	92
6. Digital Rights Management and Flashes: Digital Wars and Interactive Struggles	94
7. Interactive Identity	97
4. Bodies, Identity, and Digital Corporeality	103
1. Defining the Body	106
2. Representing Corporeality On-Screen	111
3. Body–Technology Relationalities	121
4. Body Information: The Body as a Project	133
5. Identity, Internet, and Globalization	141
1. Introduction	141
2. The Concept of Globalization	145
3. Global Discursivity	153

4. Global Time, Fluctuating Space	162
5. Global Communication, Ethics, and the Importance of Sound and Listening	179
6. Mobile Telephony, Mobility, and Networked Subjectivity	183
1. Introduction	183
2. Mobile Devices, Accessibility, and Ubiquitous Connectivity	189
3. Representing Early Adopters: From Community to Network	192
4. Mobile Assemblages, Mobilities, and the Public/Private Distinction	204
5. Conclusions: Performativity, Identity, and the Mobile Network	211
7. Online Selves: Digital Addiction	213
1. The Diction of Addiction	220
2. The Youthful Addict – A Stereotype	223
3. Online Addiction	228
4. Gaming Addiction and New Temporalities	231
5. Digital/Real and the Discourse of the Addict	238
8. Digital Surveillance, Archives, and Google Earth: Identities in/of the Digital World	243
1. Digital Surveillance and Contemporary Identity	246
2. Archiving the World	250
3. Archiving and Surveilling the Earth	257
4. Conclusions: Digital Identities	263
References	267
Subject Index	283