

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Foreword	xiii
Introduction	1
1. SETTING STANDARDS FOR APPROPRIATE HUMOR	7
Why Set Standards?	9
What Is Offensive Humor?	11
Effects of Offensive Humor	13
Categories of Offensive Humor	14
Communicating the Standards to Employees	20
2. TIPS FOR CHOOSING THE RIGHT STUFF	23
1. Identify Your Humor Gifts	25
2. Choose Humor Material That Uses Your Gifts	27
3. Take Risks with a Variety of Humor Material	29
4. Create Original Humor Material	33
5. Survey Your Employees for Humor Ideas	35
6. Select Humor That's Funny to Your Employees	37
7. A Third Fewer Words, Same or Better Joke!	38
8. Choose Surefire Humor Material for Your Opening	39
9. "Read" Your Audience	41
10. Give Your Humor Three Strikes Before Throwing It Out	43
Summary	44

3. TIPS FOR PREPARING YOUR DELIVERY	45
11. Visualize Your Humor	47
12. Slow Down to Deliver Your Humor	49
13. Enunciate Every Syllable	50
14. Don't Laugh at Your Own Humor	51
15. Don't Set Up Your Humor for Failure	52
16. When You Bomb, Keep Moving	53
17. Don't Step on Your Laughs	55
18. Field Test Your Humor	56
19. Use Your Voice as a Musical Instrument, but Not Bagpipes!	57
20. Follow Your Gut Reaction to an Ad Lib	58
21. Recruit Employees to Deliver the Humor	59
22. Use a Microphone, Better Yet, a Lapel Mic	61
23. Prepare Employees to Participate in Demonstrations	63
24. Test All Technical and Audiovisual Equipment	65
Summary	66
4. TIPS FOR PRACTICING AND PERFORMING HUMOR	67
25. Mentally Practice Your Humor	69
26. Physically Practice Your Humor	70
27. Practice the Timing of Your Verbal Humor	72
28. Practice the Timing of Your Music	73
29. Practice the Timing for Putting on Costumes	74
30. Practice the Timing for Handling Props	75
31. Practice the Timing for Demonstrations	76
Summary	76
5. TIPS RELATED TO EMPLOYEE CHARACTERISTICS	77
32. Super Size Your Audience	79
33. Recruit Women into Your Audience	81

3. TIPS FOR PREPARING YOUR DELIVERY	45
11. Visualize Your Humor	47
12. Slow Down to Deliver Your Humor	49
13. Enunciate Every Syllable	50
14. Don't Laugh at Your Own Humor	51
15. Don't Set Up Your Humor for Failure	52
16. When You Bomb, Keep Moving	53
17. Don't Step on Your Laughs	55
18. Field Test Your Humor	56
19. Use Your Voice as a Musical Instrument, but Not Bagpipes!	57
20. Follow Your Gut Reaction to an Ad Lib	58
21. Recruit Employees to Deliver the Humor	59
22. Use a Microphone, Better Yet, a Lapel Mic	61
23. Prepare Employees to Participate in Demonstrations	63
24. Test All Technical and Audiovisual Equipment	65
Summary	66
4. TIPS FOR PRACTICING AND PERFORMING HUMOR	67
25. Mentally Practice Your Humor	69
26. Physically Practice Your Humor	70
27. Practice the Timing of Your Verbal Humor	72
28. Practice the Timing of Your Music	73
29. Practice the Timing for Putting on Costumes	74
30. Practice the Timing for Handling Props	75
31. Practice the Timing for Demonstrations	76
Summary	76
5. TIPS RELATED TO EMPLOYEE CHARACTERISTICS	77
32. Super Size Your Audience	79
33. Recruit Women into Your Audience	81

34. Gear Your Humor Toward the Majority Age in Your Audience	83
35. Use Humor Appropriate for Diverse Employees	85
36. Be Sensitive to the Moods of Your Employees	89
Summary	90
6. TIPS FOR CREATING A “FUN” ENVIRONMENT	91
37. Create a Safe Environment for Humor	93
38. Create a Playful, but Professional, Room Atmosphere	94
39. Get Close to Your Employees, but Not Too Close	97
40. Establish Eyeball-to-Eyeball Contact	99
41. Smush the Seats Together	100
42. If the Room’s Too Big, Tape Off Sections	101
43. Schedule Your Meetings and Workshops in Late Morning	102
44. Keep the Room Temperature Cool	103
45. Eliminate All Distractions	104
Summary	104
7. CREATING TV, MOVIE, AND BROADWAY PARODIES	105
Definition of Parody with Examples	107
Six Steps to Creating a Parody	109
Summary	116