

Contents

Preface	9
Introduction Queen Christina's Manuscript Collection:
Construction and Context	13
Library Collaboration in Rome	14
Library History and the History of Collections	17
The Consistency of Queen Christina's Collection and the Codices Reginenses Latini	18
Aim and Questions	20
Method and Material	21
Theoretical Perspectives	23
Disposition	26
Chapter 2 Previous Research: Four Themes	28
The Queen and Her Books	30
Learned Foreigners: The Royal Librarians	36
The Royal Library and the Literary War Booty	37
Christina's Library in Rome	41
Chapter 3 The Early History of Queen Christina's library	44
The Constitution of the Collection in Stockholm	45
Royal Librarians and Avid Book Scouts: Isaac Vossius and Nicolas Heinsius	51

An Old Collection with a New Name: The Bibliotheca Alexandrina	152
The Printed Books of Queen Christina	161
“The Newest Books Acquired by this Wonderful Library”: Olof Celsius in Rome in 1698	167
The Famous Cupboards: Jacob Johan Björnståhl in Rome in 1772	172
 Chapter 7 How Historical is a Historical Collection?
Queen Christina’s Books and Later Additions	180
“Conservari ac Innovari”	181
The Rebinding Campaigns	183
The Principle of Provenance	188
Theatine Manuscripts	190
Sant’ Andrea della Valle	192
San Silvestro al Quirinale	195
The Congregation of the Index and the Master of the Sacred Palace	197
The Manuscripts from the Congregazione dell’Indice	200
A Mixed Bag	203
Manuscripts and Printed Books: Complements or Alternatives?	206
 Chapter 8 Addressing Access and the Problems of Cataloging
Christina’s library in Montfaucon’s Library of Libraries	209
A New Order : Domenico Teoli’s Double Catalog	212
The Critical Manuscript Catalog: New Orders	216
The Analytical School	218
Monumenta Germaniae Historica: A Great Enterprise	218
Modern Textual Criticism	220
Documents: The Actors of History	221
Germany Takes the Lead	222
The Summary Catalog	223

The Opening of the Vatican Library	227
New Readers, New Demands	230
The Leges	234
An Uncataloged Title is 100 Percent Error: North American Librarianship at the Vatican	236
The Catalog of André Wilmart	240
 Chapter 9 Codices Reginenses Latini:
Conclusive remarks	246
 Sommario La noia leggera dell'ordine: uno studio sulla storia della collezione di manoscritti della regina Cristina di Svezia
Storia delle biblioteche e storia delle collezioni	259
La collezione di manoscritti della regina Cristina: costruzione e contesto	260
266
Appendix List of printers	277
Index of Manuscripts Referred to in the Text and Notes	280
Bibliography	285
List of illustrations	313
Index of names	317