

CONTENTS

- Reconceptualising NGOs and their roles in Development 9
– An outline of the issues
Paul Opoku-Mensah
- Development NGOs Revisited: A New Research Agenda, 25
Terje Tvedt
- NGOs and the United Nations System: Evaluating Theoretical 55
Approaches
Kerstin Martens
- Between Heroic Independence and Dependent Subservience: 85
NGOs and the World Bank
Paul Nelson
- Beyond Dependence: Conceptualizing Information and 119
Accountability in NGO-Funder Relations
Alnoor Ebrahim
- Donors and NGO Activism in Kolkata: The Case of Unnayan 161
and NOVIB
Eldrid Mageli
- Reframing the NGO and Civil Society Discourse: Perspectives 187
from Eastern Europe
Éva Kuti
- Adjusting to Donor and State Constraints: The Paradoxical 219
Institutionalisation of a Kenyan Human Rights NGO
Marie-Emmanuelle Pommerolle

The publication of the present book was made possible by the financial support of the Norwegian NGO and Civil Society Research

Restructuring African Development Politics: NGOs and Development Policy Making in Ghana 247
Paul Opoku-Mensah

Norway and the NGO Channel: The Case of South Africa 277
Elling N. Tjønneland

The Art of NGO-ing: Everyday Practices as Key to Understanding Development NGOs 297
Thea Hilhorst

The Multiple Worlds of NGOs and HIV/AIDS: A Proposal to Rethink NGOs and their Agency 327
Hakan Seckinelgin

The Future of NGO Research in Development Studies 363
David Lewis

Donors and NGO Activism in Kolkata: The Case of Unnayan
and NOVIB

Accountability in NGO-Funder Relations
Beyond Dependence: Conceptualizing Information and
Accountability in NGO-Funder Relations
Aino-Elin Eriksson

Adjusting to Donor and State Constraints: The Paradoxical
Institutionalisation of a Kenyan Human Rights NGO

Maria-Emanuela Formicola

3201 504 B1
25 FEB 1998