

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xi
List of Illustrations	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv
Notes on Contributors	xvii
Foreword by Alessandro Portelli	xxi
1 Family Memory as a Prospective Field of Memory Studies: Past, Present, Future Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková	1
PART I
Private and Public Practices of Building Family Memory	25
2 Family Voices and the Practice of Memory: Five Generations of Women in Rome Barbara Ronchetti	27
3 The Buarque de Holanda: Family Memory and Political Engagement in the Public Space in Brazil Giselle Martins Venancio	45
4 The Ntsimane Family Traditions and Rituals in Pre- and Post-1994 South Africa Radikobo Ntsimane	60

PART II

Intergenerational Transmission of Social and Political Values 77

- 5 Czech Family Stories of Communism:
Family Memories at the Intersection of Family Values,
Family Relations and National Memory 79
Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková

- 6 Family Memories for Communism in Bulgaria:
Destiny and Resource 96
Ilia Iliev

- 7 Family Memories of Second-Generation Republican
Women Exiled to Mexico 112
Pilar Domínguez Prats

PART III

Family Memory of Violent Events and Genocide 129

- 8 “Facts, Not Emotions”: Changing Generational Needs and New Meanings of the Memory of the Armenian Genocide 131
Öndercan Muti

- 9 Family Memories and the Development of the Genocide Ideology in Rwanda 147
Philippe Denis

- 10 Exile and Soviet Memoirs: Family Mansions in Aristocratic Family Memories after the Russian Revolution 162
Zbyněk Vydra

PART IV

Family Memory, Family Identity and Digital Media 177

- 11 Family Memories, Family Histories and the Identities of Settler Family Descendants in New Zealand 179
Anna Green

12	What do Family Memories Mean?: Navigating the Unfinished Archives after the Partition of India Indira Chowdhury	197
13	“Got My Finn Tattoo!”: Sharing Family Memories on Facebook Anne Heimo	214
	Index	231

This book would not be possible without a generous support of many people and institutions. The project could be realized thanks to targeted funding provided by the Czech Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports for specific research, granted in 2021 to Palacký University Olomouc (IGA_FF_2021_014). As the contributors come from five continents and for all but one English is not a native language, I wish to thank Ivana Tůmová for having translated two chapters and Elizabeth Allyn Wood for a thorough English proof-readings of all chapters. Special thanks go to Ondřej Mohr for his help in organizing the English copy-editing and to Libee Denk, a Ph.D. student of History Department, for his efficient editorial assistance with the whole volume.

I want to thank all the contributors for their cooperation and for showing so much goodwill and forbearance. It was not easy to work in the difficult times of the coronavirus outbreak that has seriously altered how we work. Some of contributors had to struggle with the disease, the others dealt with many sad news. I thank them all not to give up and hold on with the project.

I am grateful to Anna Green who came in 2019 to Prague to talk about family memory at the XVI International Oral History Conference and later, in 2014, to Palacký University Olomouc to lecture about the topic. I thank her for developing initial ideas about a volume on family memory with me. I would like to thank Anne Heimo who generously accepted to read my chapters and give me valuable advice.

Finally, I wish to express my appreciation to the staff of the Routledge publishers. Eve Seitch showed early faith in the project, and Zoe Thomson patiently answered all my incessant questions. I am grateful to the three reviewers who gave valuable suggestions on how the volume could be conceived.