

Table of Content

List of contributors	XVII
--------------------------------	------

Austria (Arlt/Grechenig/Kalss)

I. Introduction	1
II. Basic considerations	2
III. Organisational structure of the SE	4
1. Implementation of the regulation	4
2. National aspects	5
3. Probable legislative measures concerning the organisational structure	8
4. Employee participation	10
IV. Some details on the formation and transfer of the SE	10
1. General considerations	10
2. Transfer of the registered office	11
3. Conversion	15
4. Formation by merger	15
5. Holding SE	21
6. Division of the Societas Europaea	22
V. Final remarks	23

Belgium (van der Elst)

I. Introduction	24
II. Formation of the European Company	25
1. General rules	25
2. Formation by merger	28
3. Formation of a holding SE or a subsidiary SE	30
4. Conversion of a public limited liability company to an SE	30
III. Management Systems	31
1. One-tier structure	31
2. Modified one-tier structure	35
3. The general meeting of shareholders	37
IV. Transfer of seat	38
1. The Belgian real seat theory	38
2. The competent authorities in Article 8 RE-SE	39
3. The procedure to transfer the seat	40

V.	Involvement of employees	43
VI.	Conclusion	44
 Czech Republic (Pelikánová/Čech)
I.	Introduction	46
II.	The formation of the SE in the Czech Republic	49
	1. Participation of companies with head offices outside the EC	49
	2. The location of the seat of the SE within the Czech Republic	50
	3. Protection of minority shareholders and creditors in the formation of the SE	51
	4. Formation by merger	51
	5. Formation of a holding SE	55
	6. Other questions arising in connection to the establishment of an SE	57
III.	Transfer of the seat of the SE from the Czech Republic	60
IV.	Corporate governance of the SE	60
	1. The two-tier system	61
	2. The one-tier system	62
V.	Employee involvement in the SE	64
	1. General	64
	2. Creation of the special negotiating body	65
	3. Restructuring after the formation of an SE	69
	4. Standard rules for employee participation	70
 Denmark (Friis Hansen)
I.	Introduction	72
II.	Formation of an SE in Denmark	73
III.	Transfer of the registered office of an SE	74
IV.	Management system of a Danish SE	74
V.	Involvement of employees in a Danish SE	75
 France (Colombani)
I.	Introduction	77
II.	French company law and the SE	83
	1. The distinction between “Directors” and “Directeurs”	83
	2. The legal regime of the SE and its national cousins SA, SAS, and SARL – in a nutshell	84
	3. Is there a place for a closed and contractual SE located in France?	85
III.	Formation of an SE	87
	1. Participating companies the head offices of which are not located in the Community	88

2. The SE: a convenient subsidiary that can move throughout Europe	88
IV. Management System	99
1. General	99
2. Two-tier system	100
3. One-tier system	101
4. Rules common to both systems	101
V. General meeting	102
VI. Transfer of seat	103
VII. Involvement of employees	104
VIII. Fiscal issues	105
IX. Conclusion: Will the SE significantly change the national philosophies of the company law?	105

Germany (Teichmann)

I. Introduction	109
II. Formation of an SE	110
1. Participation of companies having head offices outside the EU	110
2. Minority protection on formation	111
3. Particulars of the formation procedure and court jurisdiction	116
III. Structure of the SE	118
1. Two-tier system (management organ / supervisory organ)	119
2. One-tier system (administrative organ)	120
3. General meeting	127
IV. Transfer of registered office	127
1. Protection of minority shareholders	127
2. Protection of creditors	127
3. Merger combined with transfer of registered office	128
V. Involvement of employees	129
1. Legislative requirements	129
2. Risks and opportunities provided by the negotiations	130

Greece (Perakis)

I. Introduction	132
II. Formation of a European Company	133
1. Formation by merger	134
2. Formation of a holding SE	135
3. Formation of a subsidiary SE	135
4. Conversion of an existing SA into an SE	135
III. Management system of the European Company – the organs of the SE	135
1. The organ managing the company	135
2. The general meeting	136

3. Auditors	137
IV. Transfer of seat / registered office	137
V. Involvement of employees	138
VI. Other issues	138

Hungary (Kozma)

I. Introduction	139
II. Formation of an SE	140
1. General	140
2. Merger	140
3. Holding SE	147
4. Subsidiary SE	148
5. Conversion	149
III. Protection of minority shareholders and creditors	149
1. Protection of minority shareholders	150
2. Protection of creditors	151
IV. Management and supervision	152
1. The dualistic management system	152
2. The monistic system of management	154
V. Employees' co-determination	155
VI. Conclusion	156

Ireland (Fanning)

I. Introduction	157
II. Formation of a European Company	160
III. Management system of the European Company	162
IV. Transfer of seat / registered office	163
V. Involvement of employees	165

Italy (PernazzalAllotti)

I. Introduction: Applicable law	169
1. The provisions of law adopted by Member States relating specifically to an SE	170
2. The provisions of Member States' law which would apply to a public-limited liability company formed in accordance with that Member State's law	171
3. Provisions of law applicable for the companies involved in the formation of an SE	171
4. Relevant Italian laws	172

II. The formation of an SE	173
1. General	173
2. Formation by merger (Art. 17 to 31)	177
3. The formation of an SE holding (Art. 32 to 34)	180
4. Formation of an SE subsidiary (Art. 35 to 36)	181
5. Conversion of an existing public limited-liability company into an SE (Art. 37)	181
6. Formation of an SE and group of companies	182
III. Management systems of the European Company	182
1. Introduction	182
2. The general meeting	184
3. Administrative and supervisory organs	186
IV. Transfer of the registered office	193
1. The “real seat” arrangement and its effects (Art. 7)	193
2. Secondary establishment of an SE	194
3. Infringement of the “real seat” arrangement (Art. 64)	194
4. Procedure for the transfer of the registered office (Art. 8)	195
5. Scrutiny on the procedure for the transfer of the registered office (Art. 8 para. 8)	196
6. Transfer of the registered office and law applicable to an SE	196
V. Involvement of employees in the SE	197
 The Netherlands (Huizinga/Meinema)
I. General	200
II. Formation	201
1. General	201
2. Merger	203
3. Holding	209
4. Subsidiary	212
5. Transformation	213
III. Board Structure	214
1. General	214
2. Two-tier system	218
3. One-tier system	223
4. Liability	226
IV. Transfer of seat	227
1. Transfer proposal	227
2. Publication	228
3. Attesting certificate	228
4. Protection of creditors	229
5. Opposition by the State	230

6. Protection of minority shareholders	231
7. Holders of depositary receipts (certificaten)	232
8. Protection of employees	233
9. Foreign SEs transferring into the Netherlands	234
V. Involvement of employees	234
1. General	234
2. Negotiations	234
3. Creation of the special negotiating body	235
4. Miscellaneous provisions	237
5. Standard rules	237
6. National employee involvement	244
VI. Conclusion	245
 Poland (Oplustill/Rachwał/Sokołowski)
I. The Societas Europaea in relation to other limited companies in the Polish legal system	247
II. General provisions	248
1. The founders	248
2. Transfer of seat and the procedure to establish the identity of the incorporation seat and the real seat	249
III. Formation of an SE	254
1. Merger	254
2. Protection of shareholders and creditors by the formation of a Holding SE	256
3. Transforming an existing public limited company into an SE	257
IV. Structure of the SE	258
1. The two-tier system	258
2. The one-tier system	260
3. Transactions requiring authorisation by the supervisory organ or an express decision of the whole administrative organ	262
4. General meeting	263
V. Implementation of the Directive on the involvement of employees	264
1. Polish regulations in force governing the involvement of employees	264
2. Implementation of the rules of the Directive in detail	266
 Portugal (Pinto Duarte)
I. Introduction	269
II. General information on Portuguese company law	270
III. The organs of the sociedades anónimas	271
IV. Some specific aspects of Portuguese law on sociedades anónimas relevant for the Regulation purposes	272

1. Capital, shares and other securities	272
2. Publication of documents and particulars	272
3. Formation of companies	273
4. Legal entities may be members of the SE's organs	273
5. Competence of the general meeting	274
6. Organisation and conduct of general meetings	274
7. Decisions on the amendment of statutes	275
8. Liability of the members of the organs	275
9. Annual accounts	276
10. Merger	276
11. Merger by acquisition	277
V. The "involvement of employees" in Portuguese law	278
Spain (Muñoz-Paredes)
I. Antecedents: legislative work in progress and current Spanish law	279
II. Formation of a European Company	281
1. Companies that may participate in the formation of an SE	281
2. Formation by merger	282
3. Formation of a holding SE	284
4. Formation of a subsidiary SE	285
5. Conversion of an existing SA into an SE	285
III. Structure of the SE	286
1. One-tier system	286
2. Two-tier system	287
3. General meeting	289
IV. Transfer of seat	290
1. The right of veto of the Government	290
2. Protection of minority shareholders	290
3. Protection of creditors	291
4. Competences of the Commercial Register	291
V. Involvement of employees	291
Sweden (Dejmek)
I. Introduction	293
II. The formation of an SE	295
1. General	295
2. No Swedish crowns in the SE	297
3. Participation of companies with their head offices outside the Com- munity	297
4. The location of the registered office	298
5. Minority protection	299

III.	Transfer of the registered office	301
	1. General	301
	2. Creditor protection	302
	3. Special rules with regard to financial institution SEs	303
IV.	The structure of the SE	304
	1. National law	304
	2. The one-tier system SE	305
	3. The two-tier system SE	306
	4. The general meeting	307
	5. The managing director	308
V.	The participation of employees in the SE	308
	1. General	308
	2. National law	310
	3. Main features of the SE-Directive – allocation of seats in the special negotiating body	311
	4. An equivalent level of employee involvement	313
	5. Transparency and confidentiality	314
	6. Prevention of misuse and enforcement measures	315

United Kingdom (Edbury)

I.	General background to company law regulation in the United Kingdom	316
II.	Plans for implementation of the European Company Statute in Great Britain	317
III.	Implementation of company law provisions	317
	1. Means of creating a European Company and registration	318
	2. Legal personality and share capital of an SE	319
	3. Registered office and head office of an SE	319
	4. Transfer of an SE to another Member State	319
	5. Supervisory and management organs of an SE (one- and two-tier system)	320
	6. Winding up, liquidation, insolvency and cessation of payments	321
	7. Sanctions	321
IV.	Employee involvement provisions	321
	1. Background	321
	2. Confidential information	322
	3. Negotiation of the employee involvement agreement	322
	4. Compliance and enforcement	323
	5. Protection for members of the Special Negotiating Body	324
	6. Registration	324
V.	Costs and benefits	324

Annex I: Employee Participation in Company Organs of Public Limited-Liability Companies	329
Annex II: Council Regulation (EC) NO 2157/2001 of 8 october 2001 on the Statute for a European Company (SE)	331
Annex III: Council Directive 2001/86/EC of 8 october 2001 supplementing the Statute for a European Company with regard to the involvement of employees	365
Annex IV: Key elements of national implementation measures	384