

Contents

Introduction I

SPRING

May

Mowing my meadow with a Lamborghini tractor 11

The vegetable crisis 17

Sheep are vindictive. Even in death 23

SUMMER

June

Stow the chainsaw, I've called in Godzilla 33

Water, water everywhere. Except where I need it 39

July

War with the wildlife 47

My exciting new hobby: beekeeping 53

Attracting wildlife to my farm – with a JCB 59

CONTENTS

August

- Shearing Jean-Claude Van Lamb 67
- What's happened to my crops? 73
- Only Sting and the super-rich can save the countryside 79

AUTUMN

September

- Why every farmer needs a flamethrower 91
- How I turned around my little farm shop
of horrors 97

October

- Eau no, my pipe dream's sprung a leak 105
- Help! I can't understand a word of farmers'
agri-jargon 111

November

- Let British farms take back control – of cheap,
nasty food 119

WINTER

December

- Why I won't be selling turkeys in my farm shop 131

January

- I'm not sure I'm cut out for farming 139
I don't need Joe Wicks. Farming is keeping me fit 145

February

- Will my pigs be saved from the frying pan? 153
Birdwatching is now the highlight of my days 159

SPRING

March

- Can I stop my farm's floodwater from soaking
the neighbours? 171
Why my farm shop is causing controversy in the Cotswolds 177

April

- Brexit red tape is sowing the seeds of disaster 185

May

- Farming is the most dangerous job in Britain 193
Get orf my land! 199

Postscript

205