

CONTENT

1	Introduction	5
2	Landscape-ecological concepts of the floodplain	9
2.1	River Continuum Concept	9
2.2	Geoecological concept of the alluvial landscape.....	19
2.3	River Landscape Concept	20
2.4	Geomorphological typology of watercourses for the needs of nature conservation and landscape protection.....	21
3	History, biodiversity and conservation of floodplain forests in the Czech Republic.....	37
3.1	Floodplain forest geobiocenoses within the concept of ancient woodlands.....	37
3.2	Biodiversity of floodplain forest geobiocenoses.....	51
3.3	Conservation of willow-alder woods geobiocenosis and its cyclical succession dynamics	66
4	Changes in ecological stability and biodiversity in a floodplain landscape.....	73
4.1	Case study: Ecological Stability and Management of the Haná Agricultural Region in the Morava River Floodplain	73
4.2	Case study: Zámecký Fishpond in Lednice	79
5	Use of birds significant from the perspective of the Natura 2000 system as bioindicators of floodplain forest ecological quality.....	89
6	Proposed target state of geobiocenosis in the biocenter of ecological landscape network, with reference to the ecological requirements of umbrella bird species	103
7	Conclusion.....	119
8	References	123
9	Summary.....	187