

Contents

Introduction	Ulf Hannerz and the Militant Middle Ground Shalini Randeria, Thomas Hylland Eriksen, and Christina Garsten	1
Chapter 1	Divided by a Shared Destiny: An Anthropologist's Notes from an Overheated World Thomas Hylland Eriksen	11
Chapter 2	Juxtapositions: Social and Material Connectedness in a Pottery Community Brian Moeran	29
Chapter 3	Connecting and Disconnecting: Intentionality, Anonymity, and Transnational Networks in Upper Yemen Andre Gingrich	48
Chapter 4	Global Swirl at Dupont Circle: Think Tanks, Connectivity, and the Making of "the Global" Christina Garsten	70
Chapter 5	Reflexivity Reloaded: From Anthropology of Intellectuals to Critique of Method to Studying Sideways Dominic Boyer	91
Chapter 6	On Anthropologists and Other Cultural Interpreters Thomas Blom Hansen	111
Chapter 7	Traveling between Knowledge Practices Thomas Fillitz	131
Chapter 8	Anthropologist in the Irish Literary World: Reflexivity through Studying Sideways Helena Wulff	147

Chapter 9	Reflections in and on the Hall of Mirrors Gudrun Dahl	162
Chapter 10	On the Shores of Power: The Cultural Diversity Turn, Cultural Policies, and the Location of Migrants Ayse Caglar	181
Chapter 11	Emergent Concept Chains and Scenarios of Depoliticization: The Case of Global Governance as a Future Past Ronald Stade	205
Chapter 12	Lusotopy as Ecumene João de Pina-Cabral	241
Chapter 13	An Anthropologist of the World: Interview with Ulf Hannerz, September 2012 Dominic Boyer	264
	Publications by Ulf Hannerz	277
	Notes on Contributors	291
	Index	295