

Contents

Notes on the contributors	ix
General introduction	xiii

Part One Leisure and social change

Introduction	3
1 Predictions, portents, and paradigms (1976) Ian Miles	6
2 Technological change and the future (1980) Tom Stonier	23
3 De-skilling and forced leisure: steps beyond class analysis (1984) Chris Rojek	36
4 The politics of leisure: social control and social development (1980) Chas Critcher	45
5 The society of leisure: myth and reality (1975) Kenneth Roberts	56
6 Anti-leisure and public recreation policy: a view from the USA (1975) Geoffrey Godbey	74

Part Two Leisure and social structure

Introduction	87
7 Class stratification and cultural consumption: some motifs in the work of Pierre Bourdieu (1977) Graham Murdock	90

Freedom and Constraint

8	The Swedish experience: life and leisure in an affluent mixed economy (1980) Harald Swedner	102
9	Sociology and leisure: a structural approach and some policy implications (1975) N. C. A. Parry and D. Johnson	130
10	Boys muscle in where angels fear to tread: the relationship between physical education and young women's subcultures (1984) Sheila Scraton	149
11	One-parent families and leisure (1979) Jane Streater	175
Part Three Leisure and work: problems and possibilities
8	Introduction	189
12	'The trouble with being unemployed is that you never get a day off' (1982) Paul Corrigan	192
13	Unemployment, youth, and leisure in the 1980s (1985) Kenneth Roberts	201
14	Unemployment, leisure, and education (1981) David H. Hargreaves	224
15	Education for leisure: a case study from the Netherlands (1981) George de Vink	238
16	Early retirement: a new leisure opportunity? (1982) Ann McGoldrick	247
17	Leisure and the future: considering the options (1984) A. J. Veal	264
	Index	275