

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Contributors	x
1 General introduction: Human rights and disability – interdisciplinary perspectives	1
ALICIA OUELLETTE
1 Introduction	1
2 The challenge continues	1
3 The promise and limitations of a human rights approach	2
4 An interdisciplinary approach to understanding the promises and challenges of a human rights approach to disability	4
5 The contribution, as a whole	6
6 References	6
PART I
Human rights and disability: Different voices	7
2 Remarks on a disability-conscious bioethics	9
JOHN-STEWART GORDON
1 Introduction	9
2 The gap between bioethics and the disability rights community: Concepts, biases, and fears	10
3 On the possibility of overcoming the divide: Autonomy and personhood	15
4 Conclusions	19
5 References	19
3 Theology, disability, and human rights: Difficult past, promising future	21
JOHANN-CHRISTIAN PÖDER
1 Introduction	21
2 Theology and disability: Difficult past	21

- 3 Theological efforts at rethinking disability: Three examples 24
- 4 Theology and disability in relation to human rights and theories of justice 28
- 5 Theology and disability: Promising future 34
- 6 References 34

PART II

Human development and inclusion

37

4 Grounding disability and human rights with the capabilities approach

39

CHRISTOPHER A. RIDDLE

- 1 Introduction 39
- 2 The capabilities approach to justice 39
- 3 Human rights 41
- 4 Equality 43
- 5 Dignity 45
- 6 Autonomy 47
- 7 Concluding remarks 48
- 8 References 48

5 Human rights and persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities: An elusive but emerging paradigm

50

DONATO TARULLI, DOROTHY GRIFFITHS, AND FRANCES OWEN

- 1 Historical context and rationale for a rights agenda 50
- 2 The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities 54
- 3 Making the paradigm shift 56
- 4 Rights education 60
- 5 Relationships and rights 62
- 6 Conclusions 65
- 7 References 65

6 On human rights and human duties: Is there a moral obligation to inclusion?

68

HOLGER BURCKHART AND BENNET JÄGER

- 1 Introduction 68
- 2 Inclusion: A human right 68
- 3 Inclusion as an area of responsibility in society as a whole 70
- 4 Conclusion 72
- 5 References 72

7 The right to inclusive education: Practical implications in German schools 74

PETR FRANTIK

- 1 Introduction* 74
- 2 Preliminary remarks* 75
- 3 Current difficulties* 77
- 4 Promising approaches* 83
- 5 Conclusion and final remarks* 88
- 6 References* 89

PART III

Justice and legal protection 93

8 Disability rights, legal and moral 95

HANS S. REINDERS

- 1 Introduction* 95
- 2 Moral and legal rights* 97
- 3 Signification and ratification* 99
- 4 Promotion and protection* 100
- 5 Liberties and claim rights* 101
- 6 Justifiable restrictions* 103
- 7 What rights claims can do* 107
- 8 What disability rights cannot do* 108
- 9 Conclusion* 109
- 10 References* 110

9 From manifesto to action: Transforming the aspiration of disability human rights into accountable government action 111

JEROME BICKENBACH

- 1 Introduction* 111
- 2 The "human rights approach" and the CRPD* 113
- 3 Ideological obstacles to fulfilling the promise of the CRPD* 116
- 4 Transforming aspiration into accountable action* 125
- 5 References* 128

10 Human and civil models of rights: Healthy and ill disabled and access to health care 132

ANITA SILVERS AND LESLIE PICKERING FRANCIS

- 1 Introduction* 132
- 2 Humanity as a basis for rights ascription* 133

3	Collective agreement as a basis for rights justification	137
4	Health care rights in a civil rights frame	139
5	Group-differentiated rights and the problem of clashing models of disabilities	140
6	Disability as a medical problem	141
7	Disability as a social problem	143
8	Disability identity: Healthy versus ill?	145
9	Regarding robustness	147
10	Disability rights as civil rights	148
11	Conclusion	150
12	References	151
11	Agency and disability: A rights-based approach	154
	MICHAEL BOYLAN
1	Central definitions	154
2	Environmental disability	157
3	Disability and stigma	159
4	Eliminating negative liberty and enhancing positive liberty	167
5	Community support	168
6	Conclusion	168
7	References	169
12	Afterword	171
	AKIKO ITO
	Bibliography	175
	Index	177