

CONTENTS

|                                 |   |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Editor's note /M. Blažek/ ..... | 5 |
|---------------------------------|---|

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY

|                                                                                                                                                                    |    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| T. Czudek: Geomorphological regionalizationof the western part of Czechoslovakia .....                                                                         | 7  |
| D. Foltánová: Weather typification and its practicalapplication .....                                                                                          | 27 |
| A. Ivan: Applied geomorphological mapof the Pisárky Basin in Brno .....                                                                                        | 33 |
| J. Munzar: To the control of the emissions of harmfulcombustion products in the North BohemianLignite Basin from the climatological pointof view ..... | 51 |
| E. Quitt: Mesoclimatologic regionalisation .....                                                                                                                   | 65 |
| O. Stehlík: Geografiya i vodokhoziaystvennaya praktika/Geography and its hydroeconomic applica-tion/ .....                                                 | 73 |
| O. Štelcl: Typological division of karst regionsin the Czech Socialist Republic .....                                                                          | 81 |

HUMAN GEOGRAPHY

|                                                                                                                     |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| M. Blažek: Les perspectives de l'urbanisation en Tchéco-slovaquie .....                                         | 91  |
| Z. Hájek: Les sources de travail et la migration sélec-tive de la population du point de vuerégionale ..... | 99  |
| P. Halouzka, J. Mareš: Industry and geographicenvironment .....                                                 | 109 |
| J. Hůrský: Regions of Bohemia with a view to thefrequency of passenger transport .....                          | 121 |

|                       |                                                                                                                                                                                     |     |
|-----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Z.Láznička:           | Sur les méthodes servant à la détermination de la caractéristique fonctionnelle des habitats .....                                                                                  | 129 |
| B.Nováková - Hřibová: | Migration regions of towns in the Czech Socialist Republic .....                                                                                                                    | 137 |
| M.Střída:             | Industrial growth and regional development ....                                                                                                                                     | 161 |
| S.Šprincová:          | The functional changes of rural settlements in the backward regions .....                                                                                                           | 167 |
| C.Votrubec:           | Uchastie chekhoslovackikh geografov v izuchenii razvitiya turizma v Tunisie /Collaboration of Czechoslovak geographers in the study of the development of tourism in Tunisia/ ..... | 177 |

CARTOGRAPHY

|          |                                                                       |     |
|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| J.Demek: | Complex of the maps of the natural conditions of Czechoslovakia ..... | 187 |
| V.Novák: | Some remarks on the creation of synthetic maps .....                  | 193 |