

CONTENTS

Abbreviations Used in the Footnotes	xiii
1. The Past as Prologue: The American Vision of the Postwar World	1
2. The Soviet Union and World Revolution: The American View, 1941-1944	32
3. Cooperating for Victory: Defeating Germany and Japan	63
4. Repression versus Rehabilitation: The Problem of Germany	95
5. Security versus Self-Determination: The Problem of Eastern Europe	133
6. Economic Relations: Lend-Lease and the Russian Loan	174
7. Victory and Transition: Harry S. Truman and the Russians	198
8. The Impotence of Omnipotence: American Diplomacy, the Atomic Bomb, and the Postwar World	244
9. Getting Tough with Russia: The Reorientation of American Policy, 1946	282
10. To the Truman Doctrine: Implementing the New Policy	316
11. Conclusion: The United States and the Origins of the Cold War	353
Bibliography	363
Index	383