Contents

Notes on contributors vii
Preface xi
MICHAEL RUHLE

Introduction 1
KARSTEN FRIIS AND JENS RINGSMOSE

1 Competing academic approaches to cyber security 7
HANS-INGE LANGØ

2 From cyber threats to cyber risks 27
KARSTEN FRIIS AND ERIK REICHBORN-KJENNERUD

3 Cyber spillover conflicts: transitions from cyber conflict to conventional foreign policy disputes? 45
RYAN C. MANESS AND BRANDON VALERIANO

4 Power, rivalry and cyber conflict: an empirical analysis 65
ALLISON PYTLAK AND GEORGE E. MITCHELL

5 Cyber security in Sweden and China: going on the attack? 83
JOHAN ERIKSSON AND JOHAN LAGERKVIST

6 Who pays for zero-days? Balancing long-term stability in cyber space against short-term national security benefits 95
MICHEL HERZOG AND JONAS SCHMID

7 How to govern cyber security? The limits of the multi-stakeholder approach and the need to rethink public–private cooperation 116
LILLY PIJNENBURG MULLER

8 Cyber warfare by social network media 130
THOMAS ELKJER NISSEN

9 Politics and the development of legal norms in cyber space 151
ANDERS HENRIKSEN

10 Cyber weapons: oxymoron or a real world phenomenon to be regulated? 165
BILL BOOTHBY

11 Law in the militarization of cyber space: framing a critical research agenda 175
KRISTIN BERGTORA SANDVIK

Index 198