

Contents

Illustrations	viii
Preface	ix
Prologue: Questions of choice?	1
References	5
1 The Creation of Food Worlds	7
Making the ancient world food map	8
The origins of domestication, agriculture, and urbanization	11
Food worlds at 5000 BP	15
Seven claims	29
References	31
2 Genetics and Geography	35
Genetic modification, ancient and modern	36
Prohibitions and taboos	43
Geographical redistribution	47
Three claims	53
References	53
3 Forest, Farm, Factory	57
Forest gardens	58
Crop farming landscapes	62
Industrialized agriculture	70
Five claims	77
References	78

4	Hunting, Herding, Fishing	81
	Hunting	83
	Herding	91
	Fishing	94
	Two claims	100
	References	100
5	Preservation and Processing	103
	Ancient preservation	103
	Ancient processing	106
	Modern milling	108
	Packaging	111
	Freezing and chilling	112
	Milk, butter, yoghurt, and cheese	115
	Three claims	123
	References	123
6	Trade	125
	Ancient trades	126
	Modern trades	131
	The global supermarket	136
	Two claims	140
	References	141
7	Cooking, Class, and Consumption	143
	Cooks	143
	Cooking	146
	Eating places	149
	Meals and mealtimes	156
	References	158
8	National, Regional, and Global Cuisines	161
	Cuisine, high and low	164
	The origins of cuisines	168
	Megaregions and pan-ethnicity	182
	Global foods	185
	Three claims and counterclaims	188
	References	188

9	Eating Well, Eating Badly	191
	Nutrition and diet	191
	Stature	195
	Obesity	199
	Dieting	203
	Denial	204
	Vegetarianism	207
	References	211
10	Starving	215
	Famine	217
	Famine foods	224
	Survival strategies	226
	Food aid	228
	Impact	232
	Two claims	234
	References	235
	Conclusion: Cornucopia or Pandora's Box?	237
	References	241
	Suggested Further Reading	243
	Index	251