

CONTENTS

List of contributors	vii
List of abbreviations	xiii
Preface and acknowledgements	xv

PART I

Introduction to autoethnography as research method for librarians 1

- 1 What is autoethnography? 3
Ina Fourie
- 2 Autoethnography as a tool for critical reflection on library practice: making the case 15
Anne-Marie Deitering

PART II

Different types of autoethnography 31

- 3 Evocative autoethnography – evoking is as evoking does 33
Lisa P. Spinazola, Carolyn Ellis and Arthur Bochner
- 4 Analytic autoethnography 49
Ina Fourie
- 5 Collaborative autoethnography as method and praxis: understanding self and others in practice 61
Kathy-Ann C. Hernandez

PART III

Challenges of autoethnography 77

- 6 “How does this move us forward?”: a question of rigour in autoethnography 79
Tim Gorichanaz

- 7 Ethical challenges and protection of privacy 92
Anika Meyer and Ina Fourie

- 8 Supplementary and alternative methods: Dervin’s sense-making methodology 112
Christine Urquhart and Louisa Lam

PART IV

Autoethnography in contexts 129

- 9 Moments of illumination: a personal experience narrative of cultural competence 131
Fiona Blackburn

- 10 Autoethnography, law enforcement and an opportunity for libraries 146
Naailah Parbhoo-Ebrahim and Ina Fourie

- 11 Caregiving and autoethnography – a librarian perspective reinforced by experience as an academic and researcher 161
Olivia Pestana

PART V

The way forward 175

- 12 Taking on social challenges, personal growth and keeping momentum as autoethnographic reader and writer 177
Ina Fourie

- 13 Reflection and concluding remarks 187
All contributing authors

- Glossary 198

- Appendix A: Bibliography of autoethnography in library and information science 204

- Appendix B: Addresses for websites mentioned in the chapters 208

- Appendix C: Further reading from related fields 210

- Index 212