

Contents

1. Twins	1
2. Opening Night	7
3. Bed Rest	11
4. The Itch	21
5. Bell's Palsy	29
6. Sir Charles Bell and the Greeks	33
7. The NICU	37
8. A Brief Digression on My Catholic God	41
9. The NICU, Continued	45
10. Home	51
11. Smile!	57
12. Actors and Mothers	61
13. The Duchenne	69
14. Still Face and the Tony Awards	77
15. The Mona Lisa and Illness as Metaphor	85
16. Three Children Under the Age of Five and Three Kinds of Vomit	95
17. All the Crying Mashas and the Concept of a Good Side	101
18. Show Me What You've Got	109

19. The Observer and the Observed	113
20. Celiac Disease, or I Remember Bagels	119
21. Childhood Illness and the Symmetry of Siblings	125
22. Can You Have Postpartum Depression Two Years After Having Babies?	137
23. Refuge	151
24. I Can Only Imagine	161
25. Lizard Eye, or Kill the Ingenue	167
26. Hermione, the Frozen Statue	177
27. The Neurosurgeon Who Liked Irishwomen	181
28. The Good Doctor and Gratitude	185
29. Ding-Dong, Ding-Dong, or Grow Accustomed to Your Face	189
30. Mirror Neurons and Narcissus	199
31. The Fortune Cookie	211
32. A Woman Slowly Gets Better	219
Acknowledgments	229
Resources and Sources	235