

Table of Contents

Introductions

Ines Peper, with the collaboration of Thomas Wallnig

Introduction: The querelle that wasn't — 3

Thomas Wallnig

Habsburg intellectual history in context. Two perspectives (roof intro) — 21

Thomas Wallnig, with the collaboration of Ines Peper

Habsburg intellectual history in its universal, imperial, and regional contexts:
A Counter-Reformation account — 23

William O'Reilly

Habsburg intellectual history in a global context: revolution, evolution, innovation — 53

The Church

Chiara Petrolini, Daniel Frey, Thomas Wallnig

Bernhard Pez challenges his abbot, as viewed from a curial perspective.

New materials on a conflict situated between monastic discipline and theological antiquarianism — 99

Amanda J. Langley

Ignorant critics, learned colleagues, and evidence from the source:

Bernhard Pez's Apologia for the publication of The Life and Revelations of Agnes Blannbekin — 119

Juliette Guilbaud

Die Rezeption der Constitutio Unigenitus (1713) im Alten Reich: eine unterschätzte Diskussion? — 141

Francesca Filzi
Interactive antiquities: A Relational History — 567

Barbara Tetti

The debate about the completion of the Cathedral of Milan during the eighteenth century. Innovation and continuity with regard to aesthetical, lexical, and theoretical issues — 171

Nicholas Mithen

Tradition and reform in the scholarship of Sebastiano Paoli OMD (1684–1751) between Vienna and Naples — 193

The Empire

Ines Peper

Verhandlungen über das Mittelalter zwischen Melk und Leipzig:
Bernhard Pez' Brief von einigen alten Poeten, welche in teutscher Sprache etwas geschrieben (1725) — 217

Manuela Mayer

Wenn „große Männer“ fehlen: Argumentationsstrategien im Ringen um eine Studienreform an der Universität Wien zu Beginn des 18. Jahrhunderts — 241

Nora Gädeke

„Interdum optarem autoritatibus Tua magis muniri caeteroque philologico apparatu.“ Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz' Kritik an Hermann von der Hardts rationalistischer Bibelauslegung — 267

Thomas Ahnert

Another querelle. The Usus Modernus Pandectarum and the constitution of the Holy Roman Empire around 1700 — 293

The Habsburg Monarchy

Mona Garloff

Gebrauchtbuchhandel als neue Geschäftspraxis: Der Wiener Buchhandel des Johann Adam Schmidt (Nürnberg) zwischen Novitäten und Antiquariat (1730–1751) — 313

Stefan Benz

Der Streit um die Genealogie der Wittelsbacher. Gottfried Philipp von Spannagel (Wien) gegen Ignaz Franz Xaver von Wilhelm (München) — 347

Paul Shore

Two visions of a sacred kingdom: Gabriel Hevenesi and Samuel Timon as expositors of Holy Hungary — 393

Silvia Marin Barutchieff

Old and new iconographic forms on the eastern border of the Habsburg Monarchy. Social prestige and family alliances in eighteenth-century Oltenia — 415

Greta-Monica Miron

New uses of an old theme: The Roman origins of Romanians in the discourse of the Greek Catholic elite in eighteenth-century Transylvania — 441

Guido G. Beduschi

The Istoria of Francesco Ottieri and the writing of modern history in early eighteenth-century Italy — 459

Elisabeth Klecker

Antiquos reverentia, novos aequitate: „Moderne“ Antikerezeption bei Carl Gustav Heraeus — 479

Sonia Horn

Habsburgs beste Quellen. Tradition und Innovation in der Balneologie des 18. Jahrhunderts — 511

Andrea Griesebner

Das Josephinische Ehrerecht. Eine Gemengelage aus Altem und Neuem im Dienste einer bürgerlich-patriarchalen Geschlechterordnung — 529

Epilogues

Franz L. Fillafer

Interactive antiquities: A Relational History — 567