

Contents

Illustrations	viii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction – A Philosophy of Plenty
A New Endeavour?
Cultural studies as an object of study	1
1 The Intelligent Co-ed’s Guide to Cultural Studies
From Virginia Woolf to Tom Wolfe (destination O’Hare)
Cultural studies and literary criticism	14
2 Culture from Arnold to Schwarzenegger
Imperial Literacy to Pop Culture (destination democracy?)
Cultural studies and mass society	31
3 ‘Beating the Whites with the Red Wedge’
From public service to dinner service (destination Kate Moss)
Cultural studies and art history	58
4 Waiting for the Kettle to Boil
Culture and Consciousness (destination Celebration)
Cultural studies and political economy	88
5 The Ordinary as a Sign of Itself
Culture and Everyday Life (travelling, shopping, walking, eating)
Cultural studies and feminism, anthropology, sociology	121
6 Reading the Readers
From Marx to Market (desperately seeking adoption)
Cultural studies and teaching	149
References
Cites to Behold
Cultural studies and publishing	177
Index	185