

Table of Contents

Foreword	v
Contributors	vii
Part I
Introduction
Towards a European Contract Law – An Introduction	3
Reiner Schulze/Jules Stuyck
The Next Steps Towards a European Contract Law for Businesses and Consumers	9
Viviane Reding
Part II
Scope and Function
Towards a European Contract Law	23
Guido Alpa
Scope and Function of the Optional Instrument on European Contract Law	35
Hans Schulte-Nölke
Part III
Pre-contractual Duties
Pre-contractual Information Duties in the Optional Instrument	49
Hugh Beale/Geraint Howells

Table of Contents

Part IV Formation

Contract Formation – An Illustration of the Difficult
Interface with National Law and Enforcement 65

Evelyne Terryn

Conclusion of the Contract 81

Anna Veneziano

“Invalidity” of Contracts and Contract Terms in the Feasibility
Study on a Future Instrument for European Contract Law 97

Giovanni De Cristofaro

Part V Unfairness and Non-negotiated Terms

Unfairness and Non-negotiated Terms 123

Denis Mazeaud

Unfair Terms in Contracts Between Businesses 131

Martijn W. Hesselink

Part VI Performance and Remedies

The Influence of the Chosen Structure of the Draft for the Optional Instrument on the Functioning of the System of Remedies 151

Fryderyk Zoll

Performance and Remedies 161

Luc Grynbaum

Part VII
Panel Discussion
Overarching Issues and Perspectives
European Contract Law – The Case for a Growing Optional Instrument	169
Jürgen Basedow
A Step Further in a Long and Incremental Process: the Feasibility Study of the Expert Group on European Contract Law	173
Bénédicte Fauvarque-Cosson
The European Contract Law – Seen by a Judge	179
Irmgard Griss
A ‘Certain’ Future for the Optional Instrument	181
Hans-W. Micklitz
Second and First Step Towards a European Contract Law	195
Karl-Heinz Oehler
Towards a European Contract Law that Truly Serves European Citizens and Businesses	197
Aneta Wiewiórowska-Domagalska and Mikołaj Zaleski
Part VIII
Future Perspectives
On a European Contract Law for Consumers and Businesses – Future Perspectives	203
Ole Lando
Annex
Feasibility Study for a Future Instrument in European Contract Law	217
Commission Expert Group on European Contract Law	