

Contents

Foreword	7
1. Historical introduction	15
2. Phenomenon of the frustration	27
2.1 Translation and basic definition	28
2.2 When did the frustration start?	31
2.3 Who suffered from the frustration?	35
2.4 Who else was affected by the frustration in Lebanon?	48
2.5 Conclusion	54
3. Reasons for the frustration	57
3.1 Defeat and loss	58
3.2 Political level (Ta'if Agreement)	60
3.3 Military level (Syrian occupation)	63
3.4 Leadership level	65
3.5 Regional and international level	66
3.6 Socio-economic level	68
3.7 Demographic level (emigration)	70
3.8 Church level	71
3.9 Moral level	73
3.10 Other sources	76
3.11 Conclusion	91
4. Reactions and measures taken	95
4.1 Leaving the country and politics	95
4.2 Political reconstruction	98
4.3 Spiritual reconstruction	100
4.4 Other sources	107

5. Political frustration after 2005	111
6. The role of the church leaders in politics	129
6.1 Reasons and types of political involvement	130
6.2 Relational patterns between political and church leaders	134
6.3 What do the believers expect of their church leaders?	141
6.4 Pros and cons of political involvement	144
6.5 Church versus community	158
7. Out of the frustration	163
7.1 Increasing the frustration	163
7.2 Fighting the frustration	166
7.2.1 A Christian cannot be afraid	166
7.2.2 Having a role to play	170
7.2.3 Acceptance	174
7.3 Tasks of the Church and community	175
7.3.1 The political role	175
7.3.2 Working on the past (reconciliation)	177
7.3.3 The identity of the Christian community	182
7.4 Other sources	190
8. Conclusion	205
Sources	215
List of respondents	215
Arabic sources	216
Other sources	217
Summary/Résumé	233
Index	237
Index of respondents	241