

Contents:

Introduction	5
1 Basic aspects of unemployment	8
1.1 Unemployment as a social phenomenon	8
1.2 Consequences of unemployment	11
1.2.1 Social consequences of unemployment	13
1.2.2 Family of an unemployed	16
1.2.3 Economic consequences of unemployment	17
1.2.4 Psychological consequences of unemployment	19
1.2.5 Health risks of unemployment	22
1.3 Main developmental trends	23
Conclusion	32
2 Regional labour markets	34
2.1 Ústí Region	34
2.1.1 Educational structure	35
2.1.2 Employment	37
2.1.3 Unemployment	41
2.1.4 Long-term unemployment	46
2.2 Gemer	50
2.2.1 Selected demographical characteristics of the Gemer Region	52
2.2.2 Employment	55
2.2.3 Unemployment	57
Conclusion	64
3 Socially excluded localities and unemployment	68
3.1 Social exclusion and Roma	68
3.2 Dimensions of social exclusion and unemployment	71
3.3 Other areas linked to social exclusion	75
3.4 Causes and consequences of unemployment in socially excluded localities	78
3.5 Possible approaches to addressing the issue at the local level and their limits	83
3.6 Chanov and Předlice as examples of socially excluded localities in the socially disadvantaged region of the Ústí nad Labem region	86
Conclusion	90
4 Employment policy in the Czech Republic and Slovakia	91
4.1 State employment policy in the Czech Republic	92
4.1.1 Entities of the employment policy	96
4.1.2 Aims of the passive employment policy	98
4.1.3 Aims and Instruments of the active employment policy	100
4.1.4 Active employment policy in the Ústí Region	103
4.2 Employment policy in the Slovak Republic	108
4.2.1 Factors impacting the employment policy	108
4.2.2 State employment policy	110
4.2.3 Entities of the employment policy	111
4.2.4 Passive employment policy	113
4.2.5 Active employment policy in the Slovak Republic	114
Conclusion	123

5 Activities of regional bodies	127
5.1 The Ústí nad Labem Region	127
5.1.1 Unemployment and institutions	129
5.1.2 Analysis of community plans	132
5.2 Gemer	138
5.2.1 Social security	139
5.2.2 Analysis of community plans	141
Conclusion	150
6 Unemployment in Teaching	153
6.1 Methodological Introduction	153
6.2 Social Work as a Field of Tertiary Education	155
6.3 Department of Social Work of the Institute of Social Studies and Therapeutic Pedagogy of Comenius University in Bratislava (Slovak Republic)	159
6.3.1 Type and scope of subjects teaching the issue of unemployment	159
6.3.2. How is the issue of unemployment dealt with?	164
6.4 Department of Social Work of the Faculty of Social and Economic Studies of Jan Evangelista Purkyně University in Ústí nad Labem (Czech Republic)	175
6.4.1 The type and range of subjects where unemployment issues are taught	176
6.4.2 How is the issue of unemployment taught?	178
Conclusion	182
Summary	186
List of bibliographic references	188
Name Index	198
Subject Index	200
About the authors	203