Table of Contents

List of Tables vii
List of Figures vii

Foreword by Marie-Laure Ryan ix
Acknowledgments xv
Introduction xvii

Part 1
Concepts of Action 1
1.1 Action as Project and Construct 3
1.2 Action: From Word to Concept 29
The Etymology of the German Word Handlung 29
Action as a Concept of Poetics 31
Towards a Concept of Aesthetic Action 40
Action I: Singular Agential Activity 42
Action II: Complex (Multi-agential) Sequence of Events .. 45
Action III: Discursive Meta-Activity 45
1.3 Philosophical Definitions of Action 48
The Commonsense Concept of Action 48
Analytical Definitions of Activity and Action 49
Transcendental Definitions of Action 57
The Constructivist Concept of Action 74
Hegel: The Philosophical Value of Aesthetic Action 80
Conclusions 84
1.4 The Elements of the Action Construct 90
Lotman's Definition of the Event 91
Structuralist Approaches: Event, Transformation, Move .. 95
The Event as a Modal Change of State 103
The Event as a Construct of Reception 107
Event, Property and Matter 109
Conditions of an EVENT 117
Class-Homogenous EVENTS 119
Class-Heterogenous EVENTS 124
The Status of the Translation Rule 127
World Knowledge and the EVENT 129
Constructing EVENTS: An Example 131
MATTER and FOCUS 133

STATE OF AFFAIRS and OBJECT 133
Constructing an OBJECT EVENT 135
Constructing a DISCOURSE EVENT 139
The EVENT Matrix 142
The Referential Nature of the EVENT 144
Definitions of the Episode 151
The Formal Definition of the Episode 160
The Semiotic Square: A Reappraisal 164
The EPISODE: From Semiotic to Episodic Square 174
The EPISODE as a Three-dimensional Construct 180

Part 2
The Computer-Aided Analysis of Narrated Action 199
2.1 Narratology and Literary Computing 201
Narratology and the Cognitive Sciences 207
The Limits of Practical Implementation 209
2.2 The EventParser Program 214
2.3 Constructing EPISODES and ACTIONS 224
The Syntagmatic Link 226
The Ontic Link 227
The Semantic Link 228
Closure 235
The EPISODE Matrix 235
2.4 The EpiTest Program 242
2.5 Action Potential and ACTION Product 248
2.6 Practical Analysis Using EpiTest 253

Part 3
An Experiment in Action: Conversations of German Refugees 257
3.1 Critical Approaches to the Conversations 259
The Compositional Logic of Goethe's Conversations 264
Philosophical Discourses in Goethe's Conversations 271
3.2 Describing the Conversations 275
The Isochronous Constructs 280
The Isochronous and Anisochronous Constructs 284
3.3 Explaining the Conversations 287
Goethe and the Unfathomability of the Weltbegebenheiten 288
The Logic of ACTION in the Conversations 300
3.4 Conclusion 303

References 307
Auhor Index 329
Subject Index 333