

Contents

	Context	4
	Distance	4.1
	Worlds of numbers	4.2
	The zero world	4.3
	Relationships	5
	Family relationships	5.1
	Symmetry	5.2
	Arithmetic	5.3
	Modular arithmetic	5.4
	Quadrilaterals	5.5
	Lattices of factors	5.6
	Formalism	6
	Types of formalism	6.1
	Why?	6.2
	Examples: metric spaces	6.3
	Basic logic	6.4
	Example: modular arithmetic	6.5
	Example: lattices of factors	6.6
	Equivalence relations	7
	Exploring equality	7.1
	The idea of abstract relations	7.2
	Reflexivity	7.3
	Symmetry	7.4
	Transitivity	7.5
	Equivalence relations	7.6
	Examples from math	7.7
	Interconnectedness	7.8
	Categories: the definition	8
	Data: objects and relationships	8.1
	Structure: the definition	8.2
	Properties: the definition	8.3
	The formalism	8.4
	Distance	9
	Worlds of numbers	10
	The zero world	11
	Relationships	12
	Family relationships	13
	Symmetry	14
	Arithmetic	15
	Modular arithmetic	16
	Quadrilaterals	17
	Lattices of factors	18
	Formalism	19
	Types of formalism	20
	Why?	21
	Examples: metric spaces	22
	Basic logic	23
	Example: modular arithmetic	24
	Example: lattices of factors	25
	Equivalence relations	26
	Exploring equality	27
	The idea of abstract relations	28
	Reflexivity	29
	Symmetry	30
	Transitivity	31
	Equivalence relations	32
	Examples from math	33
	Interconnectedness	34
	Categories: the definition	35
	Data: objects and relationships	36
	Structure: the definition	37
	Properties: the definition	38
	The formalism	39
	Distance	40
	Worlds of numbers	41
	The zero world	42
	Relationships	43
	Family relationships	44
	Symmetry	45
	Arithmetic	46
	Modular arithmetic	47
	Quadrilaterals	48
	Lattices of factors	49
	Formalism	50
	Types of formalism	51
	Why?	52
	Examples: metric spaces	53
	Basic logic	54
	Example: modular arithmetic	55
	Example: lattices of factors	56
	Equivalence relations	57
	Exploring equality	58
	The idea of abstract relations	59
	Reflexivity	60
	Symmetry	61
	Transitivity	62
	Equivalence relations	63
	Examples from math	64
	Interconnectedness	65
	Categories: the definition	66
	Data: objects and relationships	67
	Structure: the definition	68
	Properties: the definition	69
	The formalism	70
	Distance	71
	Worlds of numbers	72
	The zero world	73
	Relationships	74
	Family relationships	75
	Symmetry	76
	Arithmetic	77
	Modular arithmetic	78
	Quadrilaterals	79
	Lattices of factors	80
	Formalism	81
	Types of formalism	82
	Why?	83
	Examples: metric spaces	84
	Basic logic	85
	Example: modular arithmetic	86
	Example: lattices of factors	87
	Equivalence relations	88
	Exploring equality	89
	The idea of abstract relations	90
	Reflexivity	91
	Symmetry	92
	Transitivity	93
	Equivalence relations	94
	Examples from math	95
	Interconnectedness	96
	Categories: the definition	97
	Data: objects and relationships	98
	Structure: the definition	99
	Properties: the definition	100
	The formalism	101
	Distance	102
	Worlds of numbers	103
	The zero world	104
	Relationships	105
	Family relationships	106
	Symmetry	107
	Arithmetic	108
	Modular arithmetic	109
	Quadrilaterals	110
	Lattices of factors	111
	Formalism	112
	Types of formalism	113
	Why?	114
	Examples: metric spaces	115
	Basic logic	116
	Example: modular arithmetic	117
	Example: lattices of factors	118
	Equivalence relations	119
	Exploring equality	120
	The idea of abstract relations	121
	Reflexivity	122
	Symmetry	123
	Transitivity	124
	Equivalence relations	125
	Examples from math	126
	Interconnectedness	127
	Categories: the definition	128
	Data: objects and relationships	129
	Structure: the definition	130
	Properties: the definition	131
	The formalism	132
	Distance	133
	Worlds of numbers	134
	The zero world	135
	Relationships	136
	Family relationships	137
	Symmetry	138
	Arithmetic	139
	Modular arithmetic	140
	Quadrilaterals	141
	Lattices of factors	142
	Formalism	143
	Types of formalism	144
	Why?	145
	Examples: metric spaces	146
	Basic logic	147
	Example: modular arithmetic	148
	Example: lattices of factors	149
	Equivalence relations	150
	Exploring equality	151
	The idea of abstract relations	152
	Reflexivity	153
	Symmetry	154
	Transitivity	155
	Equivalence relations	156
	Examples from math	157
	Interconnectedness	158
	Categories: the definition	159
	Data: objects and relationships	160
	Structure: the definition	161
	Properties: the definition	162
	The formalism	163
	Distance	164
	Worlds of numbers	165
	The zero world	166
	Relationships	167
	Family relationships	168
	Symmetry	169
	Arithmetic	170
	Modular arithmetic	171
	Quadrilaterals	172
	Lattices of factors	173
	Formalism	174
	Types of formalism	175
	Why?	176
	Examples: metric spaces	177
	Basic logic	178
	Example: modular arithmetic	179
	Example: lattices of factors	180
	Equivalence relations	181
	Exploring equality	182
	The idea of abstract relations	183
	Reflexivity	184
	Symmetry	185
	Transitivity	186
	Equivalence relations	187
	Examples from math	188
	Interconnectedness	189
	Categories: the definition	190
	Data: objects and relationships	191
	Structure: the definition	192
	Properties: the definition	193
	The formalism	194
	Distance	195
	Worlds of numbers	196
	The zero world	197
	Relationships	198
	Family relationships	199
	Symmetry	200
	Arithmetic	201
	Modular arithmetic	202
	Quadrilaterals	203
	Lattices of factors	204
	Formalism	205
	Types of formalism	206
	Why?	207
	Examples: metric spaces	208
	Basic logic	209
	Example: modular arithmetic	210
	Example: lattices of factors	211
	Equivalence relations	212
	Exploring equality	213
	The idea of abstract relations	214
	Reflexivity	215
	Symmetry	216
	Transitivity	217
	Equivalence relations	218
	Examples from math	219
	Interconnectedness	220
	Categories: the definition	221
	Data: objects and relationships	222
	Structure: the definition	223
	Properties: the definition	224
	The formalism	225
	Distance	226
	Worlds of numbers	227
	The zero world	228
	Relationships	229
	Family relationships	230
	Symmetry	231
	Arithmetic	232
	Modular arithmetic	233
	Quadrilaterals	234
	Lattices of factors	235
	Formalism	236
	Types of formalism	237
	Why?	238
	Examples: metric spaces	239
	Basic logic	240
	Example: modular arithmetic	241
	Example: lattices of factors	242
	Equivalence relations	243
	Exploring equality	244
	The idea of abstract relations	245
	Reflexivity	246
	Symmetry	247
	Transitivity	248
	Equivalence relations	249
	Examples from math	250
	Interconnectedness	251
	Categories: the definition	252
	Data: objects and relationships	253
	Structure: the definition	254
	Properties: the definition	255
	The formalism	256
	Distance	257
	Worlds of numbers	258
	The zero world	259
	Relationships	260
	Family relationships	261
	Symmetry	262
	Arithmetic	263
	Modular arithmetic	264
	Quadrilaterals	265
	Lattices of factors	266
	Formalism	267
	Types of formalism	268
	Why?	269
	Examples: metric spaces	270
	Basic logic	271
	Example: modular arithmetic	272
	Example: lattices of factors	273
	Equivalence relations	274
	Exploring equality	275
	The idea of abstract relations	276
	Reflexivity	277
	Symmetry	278
	Transitivity	279
	Equivalence relations	280
	Examples from math	281
	Interconnectedness	282
	Categories: the definition	283
	Data: objects and relationships	284
	Structure: the definition	285
	Properties: the definition	286
	The formalism	287
	Distance	288
	Worlds of numbers	289
	The zero world	290
	Relationships	291
	Family relationships	292
	Symmetry	293
	Arithmetic	294
	Modular arithmetic	295
	Quadrilaterals	296
	Lattices of factors	297
	Formalism	298
	Types of formalism	299
	Why?	300
	Examples: metric spaces	301
	Basic logic	302
	Example: modular arithmetic	303
	Example: lattices of factors	304
	Equivalence relations	305
	Exploring equality	306
	The idea of abstract relations	307
	Reflexivity	308
	Symmetry	309
	Transitivity	310
	Equivalence relations	311
	Examples from math	312
	Interconnectedness	313
	Categories: the definition	314
	Data: objects and relationships	315
	Structure: the definition	316
	Properties: the definition	317
	The formalism	318
	Distance	319
	Worlds of numbers	320
	The zero world	321
	Relationships	322
	Family relationships	323
	Symmetry	324
	Arithmetic	325
	Modular arithmetic	326
	Quadrilaterals	327
	Lattices of factors	328
	Formalism	329
	Types of formalism	330
	Why?	331
	Examples: metric spaces	332
	Basic logic	333
	Example: modular arithmetic	334
	Example: lattices of factors	335
	Equivalence relations	336
	Exploring equality	337
	The idea of abstract relations	338
	Reflexivity	339
	Symmetry	340
	Transitivity	341
	Equivalence relations	342
	Examples from math	343
	Interconnectedness	344
	Categories: the definition	345
	Data: objects and relationships	346
	Structure: the definition	347
	Properties: the definition	348
	The formalism	349
	Distance	350
	Worlds of numbers	351
	The zero world	352
	Relationships	353
	Family relationships	354
	Symmetry	355
	Arithmetic	356
	Modular arithmetic	357
	Quadrilaterals	358
	Lattices of factors	359
	Formalism	360
	Types of formalism	361
	Why?	362
	Examples: metric spaces	363
	Basic logic	364
	Example: modular arithmetic	365
	Example: lattices of factors	366
	Equivalence relations	367
	Exploring equality	368
	The idea of abstract relations	369
	Reflexivity	370
	Symmetry	371
	Transitivity	372
	Equivalence relations	373
	Examples from math	374
	Interconnectedness	375
	Categories: the definition	376
	Data: objects and relationships	377
	Structure: the definition	378
	Properties: the definition	379
	The formalism	380
	Distance	381
	Worlds of numbers	382
	The zero world	383
	Relationships	384
	Family relationships	385
	Symmetry	386
	Arithmetic	387
	Modular arithmetic	388
	Quadrilaterals	389
	Lattices of factors	390

3	Patterns	35
3.1	Mathematics as pattern spotting	35
3.2	Patterns as analogies	38
3.3	Patterns as signs of structure	38
3.4	Abstract structure as a type of pattern	41
3.5	Abstraction helps us see patterns	42
4	Context	44
4.1	Distance	45
4.2	Worlds of numbers	48
4.3	The zero world	51
5	Relationships	52
5.1	Family relationships	53
5.2	Symmetry	54
5.3	Arithmetic	56
5.4	Modular arithmetic	56
5.5	Quadrilaterals	57
5.6	Lattices of factors	60
6	Formalism	67
6.1	Types of tourism	67
6.2	Why we express things formally	68
6.3	Example: metric spaces	70
6.4	Basic logic	75
6.5	Example: modular arithmetic	77
6.6	Example: lattices of factors	81
7	Equivalence relations	82
7.1	Exploring equality	82
7.2	The idea of abstract relations	83
7.3	Reflexivity	84
7.4	Symmetry	87
7.5	Transitivity	88
7.6	Equivalence relations	91
7.7	Examples from math	93
7.8	Interesting failures	94
8	Categories: the definition	95
8.1	Data: objects and relationships	95
8.2	Structure: things we can do with the data	96
8.3	Properties: stipulations on the structure	99
8.4	The formal definition	102

8.5	Size issues	103
8.6	The geometry of associativity	103
8.7	Drawing helpful diagrams	104
8.8	The point of composition	105
8.9	Some useful lemmas	106
8.10	Duality: coproducts	106
8.11	Coproducts as the left adjoint	106
8.12	Decategorification: relations	106
8.13	Further topics on isomorphisms	106
	INTERLUDE A TOUR OF MATH	109
	Further topics on isomorphisms	109
9	Examples we've already seen, secretly	111
9.1	Symmetry	112
9.2	Equivalence relations	112
9.3	Factors	114
9.4	Number systems	115
10	Ordered sets	117
10.1	Totally ordered sets	117
10.2	Partially ordered sets	120
11	Small mathematical structures	124
11.1	Small drawable examples	124
11.2	Monoids	125
11.3	Groups	128
11.4	Points and paths	133
12	Sets and functions	136
12.1	Functions	137
12.2	Structure: identities and composition	143
12.3	Properties: unit and associativity laws	144
12.4	The category of sets and functions	145
13	Large worlds of mathematical structures	146
13.1	Monoids	146
13.2	Groups	150
13.3	Posets	152
13.4	Topological spaces	156
13.5	Categories	158
13.6	Matrices	160

	PART TWO DOING CATEGORY THEORY		163
14	Isomorphisms		165
14.1	Sameness		165
14.2	Invertibility		167
14.3	Isomorphism in a category		169
14.4	Treating isomorphic objects as the same		171
14.5	Isomorphisms of sets		173
14.6	Isomorphisms of large structures		177
14.7	Further topics on isomorphisms		184
15	Monics and epics		186
15.1	The asymmetry of functions		187
15.2	Injective and surjective functions		189
15.3	Monics: categorical injectivity		194
15.4	Epics: categorical surjectivity		197
15.5	Relationship with isomorphisms		201
15.6	Monoids		202
15.7	Further topics		204
16	Universal properties		206
16.1	Role vs character		206
16.2	Extremities		208
16.3	Formal definition		209
16.4	Uniqueness		211
16.5	Terminal objects		213
16.6	Ways to fail		214
16.7	Examples		217
16.8	Context		222
16.9	Further topics		224
17	Duality		226
17.1	Turning arrows around		226
17.2	Dual category		228
17.3	Monic and epic		230
17.4	Terminal and initial		234
17.5	An alternative definition of categories		234
18	Products and coproducts		237
18.1	The idea behind categorical products		237
18.2	Formal definition		238
18.3	Products as terminal objects		240
18.4	Products in Set		243

18.5	Uniqueness of products in Set	247
18.6	Products inside posets	251
18.7	The category of posets	253
18.8	Monoids and groups	258
18.9	Some key morphisms induced by products	261
18.10	Dually: coproducts	261
18.11	Coproducts in Set	263
18.12	Decategorification: relationship with arithmetic	264
18.13	Coproducts in other categories	266
18.14	Further topics	268
19	Pullbacks and pushouts	270
19.1	Pullbacks	270
19.2	Pullbacks in Set	273
19.3	Pullbacks as terminal objects somewhere	275
19.4	Example: Definition of category using pullbacks	276
19.5	Dually: pushouts	278
19.6	Pushouts in Set	279
19.7	Pushouts in topology	286
19.8	Further topics	288
20	Functors	290
20.1	Making up the definition	290
20.2	Functors between small examples	293
20.3	Functors from small drawable categories	294
20.4	Free and forgetful functors	298
20.5	Preserving and reflecting structure	302
20.6	Further topics	306
21	Categories of categories	309
21.1	The category Cat	309
21.2	Terminal and initial categories	313
21.3	Products and coproducts of categories	314
21.4	Isomorphisms of categories	317
21.5	Full and faithful functors	322
22	Natural transformations	328
22.1	Definition by abstract feeling	328
22.2	Aside on homotopies	330
22.3	Shape	331
22.4	Functor categories	332
22.5	Diagrams and cones over diagrams	333
22.6	Natural isomorphisms	335

22.7	Equivalence of categories	338
22.8	Examples of equivalences of large categories	343
22.9	Horizontal composition	344
22.10	Interchange	346
22.11	Totality	350
23	Yoneda	351
23.1	The joy of Yoneda	351
23.2	Revisiting sameness	352
23.3	Representable functors	354
23.4	The Yoneda embedding	357
23.5	The Yoneda Lemma	365
23.6	Further topics	367
24	Higher dimensions	368
24.1	Why higher dimensions?	368
24.2	Defining 2-categories directly	370
24.3	Revisiting homsets	371
24.4	From underlying graphs to underlying 2-graphs	374
24.5	Monoidal categories	378
24.6	Strictness vs weakness	380
24.7	Coherence	383
24.8	Degeneracy	385
24.9	n and infinity	388
24.10	The moral of the story	395
	Epilogue: Thinking categorically	396
	Motivations	397
	The process of doing category theory	398
	The practice of category theory	399
Appendix A	Background on alphabets	403
Appendix B	Background on basic logic	404
Appendix C	Background on set theory	405
Appendix D	Background on topological spaces	407
	Glossary	410
	Further reading	416
	Acknowledgements	418
	Index	420